ZEPPELINS AIDED GERMAN FLEET IN BIG NAVAL BATTLE

Further Details Emphasize Advantage Gained by Germans—German Dreadnought and Two Other Vessels Added to Those Sunk—Entire Crew of the Queen Mary Drowned—British Admit Marlborough and Warspite Damaged—Admiralty Besieged

Fuller details of the great naval battle off Horn's Reef in the North sea emphasize the advantage gained by the Germans in inflicting heavy losses upon the British fleet while escaping with considerable smaller damage themselves.

The German estimates of the tonnage destroyed place it at 135,000 tons on the British and 23,000 on the German side. The German figures, however, probably are based on the assumption that the British battleship Warspite was among the vessels sunk, which is denied by the British admiralty.

5000 Lives Lost

According to estimates made at Portsmouth, Eng., the British losses are 5000 men, while the German losses were between 2000 and 3000 men.

It has not appeared from any of the accounts that the British main battle-ship fleet was actually engaged. Four battleships, however, were in the fleet that supported the battle cruiser squadron. This speedy collection of warships is supposed to have attempted to cut off the retreat of the German fleet. In this it lost three of its units—the main damage suffered by the British.

Two Zeppelins Destroyed

Zeppelin airships played an important part in the engagement, according to various accounts, their superiority as scouts apparently giving the Germans a marked advantage in disposing their forces to meet the British movements. Despatches today report that two Zeppelins, supposedly among those engaged in this work, were destroyed.

Cruiser Ebbing Lost

Among the additions to the list of vessels lost in the engagement is the German cruiser Ebbing, according to neutral accounts of the battle. The Ebbing was a speedy new cruiser of between 4000 and 5000 tons, carrying a crew of 450 men.

Germans Gain at Verdun

In the battle still raging at Verdun the Germans are continuing their efforts to force the French lines northward to the fortress. Their latest effort was made last night on Fort Vanux, where they succeeded in penetrating a deep ditch north of the main French positions. The French, however, declare that they still hold the interior of the works and that all other attacks by the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses.

In the southern Tyrol the Austrians are desperately attacking the Italian positions south of the Assa valley as far as Asiago. The Italians declare that the offensive here is being held in check and that a counter offensive in a nearby sector resulted in some progress for Gen. Cadorna's forces.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY ADMITS WARSPITE AND MARLBOROUGH DAMAGED

LONDON, June 3, 4.40 p. m.—The British admiralty stated today that the battleship Marlborough was hit by a torpedo but was towed safely to port.

The dreadnought Warspite was damaged by gunfire, the admiralty added, but escaped torpedoes.

PORTSMOUTH ESTIMATES THAT 8000 PERISHED IN NAVAL BATTLE

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 3.—According to estimates made here the British losses in men in the North sea battle must be somewhere in the neighborhood of 5000. It is similarly estimated that the German losses were at least between 2000 and 3000 men.

No attempt is made here to minimize the seriousness of the British losses in ships and men, and that according to present information the German fleet had the best of the action. Six of the ill-fated British ships belonged to this port.

MORE VESSELS ADDED TO THOSE REPORTED LOST IN NAVAL BATTLE

IT'S EAGLES DAY

Many Lowell Men Went to Lawrence For a "Big Time"

Several hundred baseball fans from this city, including a big representation from Lowell Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, journeyed to Lawrence this afternoon where "Eagles day" is being observed with a baseball game between Lowell and Lawrence at Riverside park as the principal feature.

Lowell Eagles met in Merrimack square between 12.30 and 1 o'clock and received tickets entitling them to seats reserved for members of the order from Secretary John M. Hogan and a corps of assistants. Then the trip was made to the downtown city, some going in automobiles, some in special cars and others on regular cars.

At 2 o'clock the Eagles of Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill and towns along the Merrimack valley assembled at the Eagles home on Broadway, Lawrence, where a line was formed to march to the grounds. Included in the line were nearly 1000 members of the Lawrence order besides the out-of-town representatives. Headed by a band the men marched to the ball park where a musical program was furnished prior to the calling of the game.

The observance of "Eagles day" together with the rivalry between the Lowell and Lawrence teams brought out a large crowd of fans who packed Riverside park. The Lowell club made the trip in an auto truck and arrived at the grounds long before the opening of the festivities.

Following the game this afternoon the Lowell delegation as well as all other visiting members of the order will be entertained in the Eagles' new home in Lawrence. John M. Hogan, secretary of the committee in charge of the local end of the trip.

8000 LOST IN NAVAL BATTLE

growing list of vessels sunk in the great naval engagement off the Jutland coast, according to a wireless despatch from Berlin, which states that the German admiralty admits the loss of this warship.

Additions earlier in the day were the German cruiser Eibing, displacing between 4000 and 5000 tons, and the British destroyer Shark. Nearly all the men who manned the destroyer were lost.

The latest British statement regarding the outcome of the engagement shows that the admiralty views it as not at all unfavorable to the British. It is declared that they brought off the Germans, engaged their entire fleet with inferior forces, and compelled them to put back to port and give up "any plan of action they may have contemplated."

The losses on the British side, estimated at 5000 may be nearly matched by those of the Germans. If the latest reports on the number of German warships lost are confirmed. In the British casualty list are included Capt. Prowse and the entire complement of the battle cruiser Queen Mary, which probably had between 900 and 950 men on board. Rear Admiral Horace Hood has been lost with the battle cruiser.

Two of the Zeppelins which played such an important part in the engagement by keeping the Germans informed of the British fleet's movements were destroyed, according to reports brought in by Danish fishermen who declare that the entire crew of one of the airships perished when the craft was burned.

WOUNDED MEN FROM NORTH SEA BATTLE REACH LONDON

LONDON, June 3.—Wounded men from the North sea battle reached London this morning.

The public was strictly prohibited from talking to the men but crowds assembled outside the barriers at the railway stations cheering them.

There is no estimate of the number of wounded but it is feared that the loss of life will exceed 5000 officers and men including the whole crew of the Queen Mary. There is no news of the crews of other ships lost but the Germans report that they picked up some and a few have arrived at neutral ports.

The German loss of life must have been almost as great as that of the British, if the British estimate of the destruction of two battleships and a battle cruiser and other smaller ships is correct.

The scenes at the admiralty this morning were most distressing, the big building being besieged by relatives and friends of the crews that were in the engagement.

As for the light and its result there was an inclination this morning after the receipt of the later official account, not to consider the outcome of the engagement so disastrous as it was at

BATTLE OF VERDUN HAS REACHED A POINT OF UNPRECEDENTED VIOLENCE

PARIS, June 3.—The battle of Verdun reached a point of unprecedented violence in the last 48 hours. The Germans made a formidable effort to mass reinforcements on the right bank of the Meuse, supported by a great number of heavy pieces drawn from other fronts.

The concentration of the German forces is taken here to indicate a supreme attempt to bring the long drawn out attack on the fortress to a successful issue and to prevent a general offensive by the allies. Despite the intensity of the attack, involving enormous losses, the French official accounts show that the main lines are not essentially changed. The furthest point reached by the Germans was houses on the outskirts of Dambloup. The main portion of the town is strongly held by the French.

CHANGE NAVAL BILL

TILLMAN WANTS SIX BATTLE CRUISERS AND TWO DREADNAUGHTS

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Chairman Tillman of the senate naval committee announced today that he would lead a fight in the senate to change the naval appropriation bill so as to provide for six battle cruisers and two dreadnaughts, instead of five battle cruisers and no battleships as in the bill passed by the house yesterday.

Senator Tillman explained that his action was not based on the naval engagement in the North sea because he had not received sufficient data to pick out lessons it would teach.

"But my mind is made up this far," said he. "I believe the house bill should be materially enlarged and I believe the senate is of the same opinion. I am in favor of six battle cruisers and two dreadnaughts."

OUR LOSSES BY FIRE

NO SERIOUS FIRES DURING FIRST FIVE MONTHS OF PRESENT YEAR

The fire loss during the first five months of this year is the smallest in the history of the city for many years, there having been but one really big fire this year, that being the one which broke out in the plant of the Merrimack Utilization Co. in Warren street in January. Inasmuch as considerable amount of the material in the plant was salvaged, the exact loss has not as yet been returned to the chief of the fire department. The losses for the month of May have not been compiled yet but it is known that it will not be as high as during the corresponding month last year.

During the first four months of this year, excepting the fire in Warren street, the total loss was $24,002.71, against $99,400.55 for the same period last year. The loss during the first third of last year was high on account of the fire in the Memorial building in March.

The following table shows the comparative loss during the first four months of 1915 and 1916:

	1915	1916
January	$4569.10	$13,235.18
February	4378.78	3,406.52
March	5853.28	$8,513.20
April	5491.55	2,215.55
Total	$24,002.71	$29,400.55

Moynahan was struck and run over by a train in Western avenue near School street. His right arm was cut off near the shoulder, while one of his legs was fractured. He also received bad bruises all over the body. The accident occurred shortly before 4 o'clock and the injured man was removed to St. John's hospital in the ambulance. Moynahan was employed by the Boston & Maine.

He is survived by his wife, Catherine; four daughters, Margaret M., Helen E., Bertha B. and Elizabeth C. ## Leave for G. O. P. Convention at Chicago — Notes of Interest From Washington

Special to The Sun
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Holding tight the bit of green pastboard that paved the way to unchallenged entrance to the White House grounds, each guest bidden to Mrs. Wilson's last at home filed through the big east gate. Then past the long corridor, the old-fashioned boxwood edged garden, and along winding, elm shaded paths to where Mrs. Wilson and the president greeted their guests under oaks and elms of a century's growth. The tall officer standing beside the president bowed slightly as he listened for your name, which you whispered in his ear; he then announced you by name as he presented you to the president, who in turn presented you by name to Mrs. Wilson, who deftly passed you along into space with a dexterous twist of the wrist. In the handshake she gave, which said as plainly as words, "Please step lively." Then you found yourself wandering towards the gay little marquee tent of red and white where punch and raspberry frappe were served and where the tinkling of the ice against the big cut glass bowl made you forget that you were all doing up for the party and the thermometer stood 90 degrees in the shade. It was a wonderfully pretty scene, with the great trees throwing a restful shade, the garden bright with summer bloom, great fountains playing, hundreds of women in white and gay colors with sunny uniforms and much gold lace and hundreds more of the navy, which had got a lap ahead of the army by going into its summer uniform, and so its officers wore white duck embellished with gold epaulettes and their white duck caps gold trimmed. The full Marine band in vivid scarlet played on the lawn; and in the near distance the Washington monument loomed over all like a clear cut cameo against the rose tints of the setting sun.

The president stood during the two hours of the reception with his left hand tightly grasped in his left hand, while he shook 1500 outstretched hands with his right.

Mrs. Wilson wore a handsome gown of white with a big picture hat and plumes of white. Everybody met everybody they knew, and it was informal as just like any other lawn party, after the first formality of presentation by the military aid to the president and Mrs. Wilson was over. And it was a day to give one a most prodigious thirst for the cool things served in those gay little tents, and it's to be hoped the servers shut their eyes to the number of "repeaters" who came back for just one more taste. Some of us had strayed far down in the gardens just before the closing hour, to get a better view of the Potomac as it glistened between the park and the Virginia shores, all aglow in the sunset, and as we passed back through the grounds the receiving line was breaking up—the president at that moment was enjoying a holiday lawn, and Mrs. Wilson drawing off her long gloves with a sigh of relief—just like everyday folks who were glad it was over.

Off to the Convention
"I don't know where I'm going but I'm on the way" doesn't apply to Washington just now. Everybody knows where he is going, and it's Chicago—to be in at the finish when the republican presidential nominee is named. If you ask a man about the weather, he says in reply, "When are you going to Chicago?" If you ask the next man you meet, "What do you think about the Mexican situation?" he will say, "I'm going to Chicago Sunday; when are you going?" And that is about as near an answer to any question as you will get. It's nothing but national conventions out here. Everybody seems to have forgotten that Villa is still unearthened—that there was in Europe, threatens us with possible complications—that the Vera Cruz trip two years ago brought no salute to our flag—that congress is in session and that the appropriations may amount up to a billion and a half dollars—that the legislators are fairly tumbling over themselves to get public building bills, government plants for nitrate, shipbuilding, armor plate and a thousand and one other measures passed before the session ends. But nobody thinks of that. It is all politics and especially Chicago convention that one hears of every side. "Who are they to nominate?" Is the question of the day, and there won't be a baker's dozen senators and congressmen here during the conventions, according to the present outlook. The senate will transact no business, the house none that is contested, or that requires a roll call. It is expected that many of the odds and ends on the unanimous consent calendar will be cleared out of the way, and possibly one or two appropriate bills, including pensions, but nothing else.

Trouble With Clogs

Did an officer of the U. S. navy pour ice cream down the back of an officer of the Chilean navy? The state department doesn't believe he did, even if someone in Chile does say so, and very likely the state and navy department will soon be framing a formal answer to the question. Moreover, someone intimates that not content with making such an unusual disposition of ice cream the navy man from the United States slid a shoe at the statue of one of their naval heroes. Absurd as the charge is, there is likely to be an official inquiry made, in order to set at rest any further talk.

Washing Machine Agents Nailed

"The slickest thing in trousers" has gone on the official records of the state committee on interstate and foreign commerce, as a description of the city salesman who visits rural districts. Anyway, Mrs. Christiana Frederick, an expert in household efficiency, said so, and the committee stenographer put it down in black and white. Mrs. Frederick was urging congress to protect country folks from plausible agents and according to her testimony the man selling patent washing machines—that won't wash—is "the slickest thing in trousers" and can get $10 egg money from a farmer's wife in return for a piece of junk not worth 10 cents. And how the records of congress show what a black eye Mrs. Frederick gave those machines which she further described as "worthless contraptions."

ROOSEVELT OR HUGHES?

Favorite sons and dark horses and all that brood of boss politicians are away back out of the limelight and two figures stand out in the glare—Roosevelt and Hughes. This does not make it certain that either will be the republican nominee, but just now nobody else is seen for a second by the various party leaders. The situation is made uncertain by the attitude of both men, Justice Hughes being still the sphinxlike uncertainty hidden in wisdom and whisks and the Colonel making speeches and turning tricks that recall 1912 in a very perturbing way.

Of the support of both men that of Colonel Roosevelt is by far the more vocal, and his supporters say that he will either rule or wreck. A cartoon in the New York World pictures him as a Zeppelin over the republican national convention building and those who do not support him are decidedly afraid that he will make trouble. His penchant for bomb throwing is well established, but the delegates to the convention are not coming behind the Roosevelt standard as swiftly as he would like. He is therefore making whirlwind tours, indulging in activities that are described as "cyclonic" and resorting to all the lures of the days when his shadow was large on the land. Every popular agitation is seized upon for a popular appeal, and evidently he has set out to land the nomination or bust.

On the other hand, Justice Hughes is inspiring a larger degree of confidence daily by his attitude of calm deliberation, though nobody is wondering now whether or not he is a candidate. Roosevelt's implied threat to make party trouble is acting as a boomerang, and from the clashes of partisan strife comes the sober voice of the people asking if it is well to elect a man of Roosevelt's temperament when the world is looking for peace. Even those who most ardently condemn President Wilson for his alleged inactivity turn to Wilson rather than to Roosevelt who is supposed to lean to the other extreme. Meanwhile the democrats are following a policy of watchful waiting, secretly hoping that Roosevelt will be the choice at Chicago.

TEXTILE SCHOOL GRADUATION

The annual commencement exercises of the Lowell Textile school bring to the attention of the entire country an opportunity that is not yet sufficiently recognized in our own city. Here is a school, admittedly the finest of its kind in the world, with an unequalled equipment, instructors of widespread reputation and a record of past achievement that sets it apart among technical schools. Yet the percentage of students from this leading city of the textile business is not what it ought to be—more especially in the day classes. The brightest of our boys, graduating from the high school, still seek the universities and the crowded professions while here at their door is an institution that opens up to them a great, prosperous and useful future.

The opportunity that opens up before young men who seek the textile business in America at the present time was well outlined by Mr. A. G. Cummock in his address of welcome. It was not a mere voicing of platitudes or generalities but a speech bristling with facts and supported by practical results. He showed that the American mills must look to their own schools for the future if America is to become independent of outside aid and he showed that when they do look to the schools, the Lowell Textile schools shall not be found wanting. Nowhere in the country has more advancement been made in the dyestuff industry than in the Lowell school, and if the necessary co-operation and backing are forthcoming business America shall be immeasurably the gainer.

The remarks of Hon. Calvin Coolidge were calculated to awaken thought, meant as they were to show that America has educational opportunities for all who seek them. It may be that in the future the Lowell school will be able to give of its best to those who are handicapped financially or otherwise, but an application of the lesson was seen in the success of the bright young American boy who was one of the eight to receive degrees. His example should be an inspiration to all our boys and should encourage more of them to seek for success in the business which gave Lowell its first start and which still is our crowning glory.

STATE TAX CUT

The reduction of the state tax by 15 per cent from that of last year is something that all cities of the commonwealth will approve, and it marks a change of front in the legislature that ought to become permanent. In the last analysis the responsibility for state taxation rests on the legislature and though there is a desire apparent to make party capital out of the reduction, the praise goes squarely where the blame went for the past ten years or more. Governor McCall urged economy in his inaugural but he had a majority in the legislature and was able to carry his wishes through, aided by public opinion which had become strongly resentful of the burdens placed on all cities by legislative extravagance. As matters stand, leaders of all parties who look for public office in this state cannot ignore the real desire for economy that is becoming widespread. The people are realizing that public money is the money of the people collectively and individually, and the people see that it is folly to approve of waste that must sooner or later react on each and all. Governor McCall is entitled to commendation for his strong stand for economy and for impressing same on the republican legislature which has been responsible for the extravagance that made Massachusetts sit up and take notice.

THE LOAN SHARK

In this day of living from hand to mouth it is not hard for the loan shark to get victims. People who need ready money badly rarely look to the future and many jump to the bait of the unjust money lender whose profits are in petty loans for which he charges an exorbitant interest. Even under the law usury is common and revelations of individual cases would awaken a storm of indignation in every community. Unfortunately those who fall into the hands of the merciless money lenders rarely make known their troubles and behind the veil of secrecy a nefarious traffic is kept up. While it may be a good thing to have a well conducted loan business to which the needy may repair, it is true that those who borrow are rarely the kind who ought to be encouraged to do so. The law should keep after the unjust usurer but the establishment of credit unions would seem to be the better way of meeting the problem. Boston recently started a campaign to form such a union with the co-operation of the city and a fund of $50,000 was immediately pledged by wealthy citizens.

JUSTICE BRANDEIS

The confirmation of Louis D. Brandeis in the senate by a vote of 47 to 22 ends a discreditable episode in the history of the United States bench and leaves the noted jurist victor by a safe margin. It is a victory for him and a tribute to his well known aggressiveness in any cause, but it is likewise a triumph for President Wilson whose faith in the Boston lawyer was unshaken throughout. Like all men who have taken a leading part in popular agitations, Mr. Brandeis had made strong and influential enemies but to compensate him he had the backing of friends who were no less earnest and able. His confirmation is another proof—if proof were needed—of American democracy, showing as it does that superlative ability will master all obstacles and march on to ultimate success. With his keen mind and extraordinary energy Justice Brandeis ought to prove a worthy member of the most august judicial body in the world, and his recent experience may be turned to advantage by zeal in the public cause and the exercise of the judicial temperament.

THE BIG FOUR

Nobody in Massachusetts really believes that either Senator Weeks or Governor McCall has a chance of the republican nomination but still the republican press speaks soberly of votes for either or both. This vote will be purely perfunctory and of a complimentary nature and it is highly probable that Mr. Weeks will get it on the first ballot. He seems more desirous of getting it than the more austere Governor McCall and it is a slight reward for energy that spread the name of Weeks from the Atlantic to the Pacific. After the perfunctory matter-of-form vote, who shall be the next choice? The delegates are officially "unpledged" but we were told by Messrs. Gardner, Cushing and Co. that they are opposed to Roosevelt. Thinking republicans whisper that the Massachusetts delegation will vote for Weeks and then turn to Hughes en masse. Time will tell surely but it is hard to wait when the atmosphere is surcharged with such partisan excitement.

WHEN ASKED TO RIDE

If you have any doubts of the prudence or driving ability of the friend who asks you to take a ride in his automobile you might tactfully remind him of a recent decision given to a man in this vicinity. He was injured because of the negligent driving of a friend who had invited him for a spin and when he tested the law he was granted judgment to the tune of $175. There is an ethical side to the question which does not harmonize with its legal aspect, but ethics and the law are sometimes contradictory. A few more such cases and men who intend to take their friends out may, in true legal fashion, present a paper stating that the guest rides at his own risk. If the decision has any effect in lessening reckless driving there are compensations for the injured feelings of some people.

STRIKE RIOT IN BOSTON

POLICE AND STRIKERS IN WILD RIOT IN STATE ST.—MANY INJURED—FOUR ARRESTED

BOSTON, June 3.—Patrolmen battled with guns and clubs, a dozen building laborers were beaten and bruised and knives were wielded by strike sympathizers, in State st., yesterday afternoon, during a strike riot. The riot was the most serious since the half dozen which occurred throughout the city. When the rioting ceased at 5 o'clock last night, four members of the Hood Carters and Laborers' union, whose members are out on strike, were under arrest and the police were searching for several others who had leading parts in the State street fight. Strikers and their sympathizers were bruised and beaten. Two workmen who were dragged from their work in a Columbus avenue building and rolled into a gutter, were at their homes, fearing for their lives. Practically all of the strikers are foreigners.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The members of Admiral Farragut camp, No. 78, Sons of Veterans, met last night in Post 185 hall, S. W. President Fred L. Fletcher occupying the chair. Brother Philip Smith and Comrade Henry Clay were reported as sick and a committee was appointed to call upon them.

A circular letter was read from the division secretary who reported that the Sons of Veterans had a membership of 7165 at the present time and a great effort is being made to bring it up to 8000.

Garfield Relief Corps

The regular meeting of James A. Garfield Relief corps, No. 33, was held Thursday. The sewing circle met in the afternoon and supper was served at 6 o'clock in charge of Mrs. Martin Fife, assisted by Mrs. Annie Cheney and Miss H. Smith. Mrs. E. Giles Planders presided at the business meeting that followed the supper and considerable routine business was transacted. The sick committee reported that the sick ones were improving. Arrangements were made for a picnic to be held at Canobie lake in the near future, also for the memorial water service at Tyngsboro on June 11. Brief remarks were made by several for the good of the order. The salute to the flag was given and the meeting closed in the ritual form.

Order of Owls

The regular meeting of Lowell nest, Order of Owls, was held Thursday evening in Elks hall, Middle street. President Richard J. Flynn presided and received a number of applications for membership. The committee on whist earlier reported. Arrangements were made for the outing to be held later on in the summer. Several members spoke on the good and welfare of the order.

Pimples

It is truly remarkable how Cadum Ointment causes pimples to disappear. They dry up and fall off, leaving the skin soft and smooth. Cadum Ointment helps these annoying and disfiguring facial blemishes because it can be applied direct to the trouble, and its soothing, antiseptic and healing powers stop the itching at once. Cadum Ointment is equally good for rash, blotches, scaly skin, chafings, eczema, sores, eruptions, cuts, burns, ringworm, scabs, itch, tetter, etc. 25c.

THE SPELLBINDER

All up to the preparedness demonstration. The Spanish War Veterans produced a happy thought in suggesting to Mayor O'Donnell that the demonstration take place on June 14—Flag day, while the mayor demonstrated his efficiency in making the time for the parade at night when the stores, mills and workshops have closed for the day, and the business men can lose no trade, and the working population no wages as a result of the big show. I understand that the board of trade is about to get into the game and have the parade conducted a "dollar save" day on Flag day, for the purpose of attracting out-of-town shoppers to Lowell on that occasion, and hence everything points to a big day and a bigger night on Wednesday, June 14. Owing to the large number of organizations that are expected to participate in the parade, it will be well for all who intend to take part to make known their intention of so doing at the parade headquarters at city hall without delay, to avoid 11th hour confusion. The parade ever held in this city has been, some good ones in the past.

Where the Bay State Loses

One by one the jitneys are increasing and soon they'll be running on all the car lines. Yesterday a jitney driver made his regular run in the city, running from the square to Boynton street, and he found business rushing, while the short distance made it possible for him to pick up quite a number of nickels. Since the Chelmsford street bridge has caused a change in the running time of the Centralville car, the people who reside beyond Twelfth street have been complaining bitterly over the poor car service accorded them. The enterprising jitney driver took his cue from their complaints and appeared on the job yesterday, and means a similar increase in expense, except when the new appointee is taken from among the callmen, in which case the callman's salary is eliminated. Neither department has a sufficient appropriation to permit the appointment of a number of additional men, but it is probable that provisions will be made next year to increase both forces. Some of the members of the fire department have been in the service a great number of years, and are too advanced in age to give the efficient service that a young man could give, though a few can work as actively as many of the younger fellows. The growth of the city necessitates the appointment of more policemen in the very near future. Already there are a few "over the hill" while some of the regular routes include a tremendous amount of territory for one man to cover properly. The immediate

Additional Police and Firemen

Supt. Putnam has stated that he needs additional permanent firemen to man the newly acquired motor trucks. He has already made a number of requests made upon Mayor O'Donnell for additional police service. Perhaps both are badly needed, but each additional policeman appointed means an additional expense to the city of $1092 per year, and each additional fireman means a similar increase in expense, except when the new appointee is taken from among the callmen, in which case the callman's salary is eliminated. Purchased at Last

The three fire trucks, for the purchase of which last year's government appropriated $16,000 in March, became the property of the city of Lowell yesterday, and one on first thought asks the question: "If it takes 14 months to purchase three fire trucks, how long will it take to build a high school, or a bridge, or even to complete Memorial building?" In the case of the Memorial building 11 months already have passed since the repair work was started. But on second thought one realizes that there has been a new disposition, and that the new government is showing signs of considerable life in solving promptly the several problems left in chaotic state for its consideration by its predecessors. The permit of the harbor and land commission for the construction of Pawtucket bridge was received by phone yesterday and in the mail today, and hence all that remains preparatory to the beginning of the actual work on the bridge is the signing of the contract, which will be done in a few days. Having been looked over by Mr. Worcester, consulting engineer for the city, and certain minor changes ordered by him are at present being made.

BUILDERS VERY BUSY

Work on Factory Buildings Being Pushed—Permits for New Dwellings and Alterations

The local builders are still busy and, according to indications, the craftsmen of the various lines will have all they can do during the summer months. Plans are now under way for the erection of a couple of theatres in this city, while some land owners are contemplating the erection of large dwelling houses.

Work on demolishing of the buildings on the site seized some time ago by the council for the proposed Dummer street extension may be started within a few days. Commissioner Morse is getting things in shape to open the new thoroughfare and he means to hurry along with the job.

Ella M. Fraser is having a two and one-half story dwelling erected to 133 Sanders street. The house will be 33 feet, 10 inches by 23 feet, 10 inches and will cost about $3500.

A cottage owned by David Ziskind and located at 157-159 Howard street will soon be converted into a four-tenement house. The present building will be moved forward on the lot and an addition of 40 feet by 30 feet will be constructed. The cost of the change will be about $5500.

Extensive alterations are being made to the property of C. Harry Clapp at 494 Middlesex street. The floor will be lowered and two additions will be erected. One 47 by 40 feet and the other 45 feet by 20 feet. The first addition will be used as a carriage shed, while the other will serve to enlarge the store now on the premises. The estimated cost of the work is $1500.

Philippe M. Gosselin is adding two extra tenements to his building at 13-15 Second avenue. The addition will be two stories in height and 24 by 30 feet. The cost of the work will be about $1450.

A five-room bungalow with bath is being erected for Thomas McOsker at 165 Sayers street. The house will be 34 by 24 feet and will cost about $1200.

Elias Boutillier is having a piazza constructed at his home, 30 Wentworth avenue, at a cost of $225.

A concrete block garage is being built by William Staples in the rear of 1123 Lawrence street. The building will be 15 by 18 feet and will cost about $150.

Charles J. Shaw is building an ell which will serve as a kitchen at his home, 34 O'Connell street. The addition will be one story high and will cost $150.

Edmond Traversy has started work on the erection of a storage shed, 35 by 19 feet, on his land, 5 Dalton street, at a cost of $100.

Hercules A. Toupin has made plans for important changes to his building, 103 Cheever street. The store front will be changed and considerable interior alterations will be made.

A sleeping porch, 23 by 5 1/2 feet, is being built to the house of W. H. Staples at 1123 Lawrence street.

Carpenters are at work erecting a bay window on the second story of the property owned by John and Bridget Devine at 32 Hastings street.

BECAUSE—
It's on a street of successful people.
He knows his money is well invested.
It pays more interest than your bank on monthly payments.
Its lots are high and dry and slightly.
It's only $5 down and easy payments.
Or 15% discount for cash.
Its prices are only $45 to $295 (a few higher).
HE KNOWS that poor men pay rent and successful ones don't.

THEY DO SAY

That John Quinn is a fine director.
That Alice is strong on mineral oil.
That the ball game didn't materialize.
That Bertha is strong on the come back.
That Barnum will see the Wild West Show.
That F. M. is still looking for that trout.
That Tom says Percy needs spiritual uplift.
That Billy is saving up for the Fourth.
That the mayor speaks right up in meeting.
That Mack was looking for Dan this morning.
That Alice ate the lobster salad this time.
That Martie G. would like to run for treasurer.
That you can't go to heaven in a limousine.
That Walter Guyette says he has but one right hand.
That sleep beats a hoghead of ordinary medicine.
That some of these divorce suits are positively insane.
That old sweethearts should never grow suspicious.
That Lillian and Florence missed the movies this week.
That mention of the ball game cured Richard's headache.
That Nellie lost a shoe heel at the Bloomer Girls' outing.
That Mayor O'Donnell is helping along the matrimonial boom.
That Joe O'Connor brought back the smile he took to Springfield.
That we're all interested in home engagement as she sees it.
That Owen Monahan says the girls in Rutland are the prettiest ever.
That the little fat soldier was an object of pity on field day.
That the semaphore has a help to the traffic officer is an utter failure.

That it wouldn't have seemed like Memorial day unless it showered.
That one of Lowell's prominent lawyers is soon to become a benedict.
That St. Michael's mission attracted vast throngs of women this week.
That to start the day right one needs to be cheerful at the breakfast table.
That the liquor dealers are opposed to pushing the clock ahead an hour.
That the drama by the boys of St. Patrick's school will be the best ever.
That Judge Enright may be able to relate some good fish stories next week.
That a group of Lowell boys think Forge pond is the ideal camping place.
That some men would give their eye teeth for the secrets of popularity.
That the new skirts look like an awning ad or a picture from convict life.
That all the lasses frown at the fellow who goes through the rock and rye.
That little Henry fell out of the bed, rolled in under and finished his sleep.
That the present generation may live to see a new bridge at Pawtucket falls.
That the number of automobile and motorcycle accidents are increasing daily.
That some people always spoil a good job by trying to economize on material.
That Chester was most anxious for the other fellow to keep his engagement.
That a hero has his day but as soon as he gets sick or married he's forgotten.
That that New London aggregation is certainly too strong for the Eastern league.
That the fans are all up for a 2.30 ball game, especially on Saturday afternoons.
That there would be fewer failures if people would read the signposts on the way.
That Col. Albert Bergeron was there with his "boys" in the Memorial day parade.

That one Lowell man says he'd go to Plattsburg only that he is to be married.
That the ranks of the valiant heroes of '51 are perceptibly declining in numbers.
That it is reported that a local plumber thinks of entering the legal profession.
That Kate thinks the weather clerk and bogus weather prophets are downright mean.
That one should make up his mind to devote part of his time to self improvement.
That the Lowell Driving club's Memorial day meet was encouraging to say the least.
That most of us are poor because we don't believe in preparedness on general principles.
That a few trips over upper Broadway with all its holes would strain the strongest auto.
That the picture from the floors of the Sun building is growing more beautiful every day.
That the automobilist who doesn't believe in signs is liable to get into a peck of trouble.
That the volunteers for Irish tag day next Saturday will be the most beautiful of all.
That the organ grinder and the sausage grinder look upon their work in the same way.
That no odds how careful you are there are people who will tell you to be more careful.
That the grounds of the Immaculate Conception church are more beautiful than ever this year.
That that Crowe and his "party" are certainly wonders when it comes to playing the game of whist.
That a self-made man many times would be all right if he didn't do so much crowing about it.
That "As She Sees It" is not in a position to give advice concerning the enlargement of the home.
That Mr. Haller has high standards but he has a way of making his pupils come up to them.
That the money paid for the traffic semaphore, if yet paid, might as well have been thrown away.
That Herve D. is still wearing his moustache much to the delight of the members of the fair sex.

That an automobile, a dozen cigars, a fine road and congenial company is the proper caper for June days.
That Lowell men will attend the big Federation of Catholic societies convention in New York in August.
That the various belligerent governments are waiting to get lips from the American school graduates.
That Gus Donovan of Lawrence is making good as an attorney even as he made good as a newspaper man.
That nature makes up for the high price of leather by sending us more ladies' slippers than ever before.
That Joe Haggerty will confidentially tell the fat fellows how they can get back to the lightweight class.
That the fire loss in this city has been decidedly low so far this year. Here's hoping that it will remain so.
That some people fear the newspaper notoriety they receive more than they do the police record and fine imposed.
That few have any idea of the possibilities that are in state extension education, and Lowell should wake up to it.
That the local men who go on the naval training cruise will be right there when we have navigation of the Merrimack.
That an ex-city official is preparing to bring suit against certain prominent citizens of Lowell for alleged criminal conspiracy.
That everybody thinks of the big battleships which went down, but few think of the poor fellows who were drowned like rats.
That when they ask a fellow what L.L.L.T. means he gives it up. Then they tell him it means Lynch & Lotto, Lowell's Largest Tailors.
That Jerry Harrington was considered very clever in handling the yarn for shawls but that he is still better when it comes to fish yarns.
That the acceptance of the three pieces of motorized fire apparatus came as good news to many, but there were others who were disappointed.
That members of the rising generation are looking forward to June 15th when the greatest, grandest, biggest, best, etc., circus comes to town.
That the amount of attention paid to a girl on the street is not a fair measure of her attractiveness—the side show is always a drawing card.

That Charley is some "crib" player, but he is having an awful job trying to convince some of his friends that he can get 26 out of four sevens and an ace.
That when it comes to real detective work, everyone has to take his hat off to Tommy O'Sullivan, the disguise artist par excellence of the police department.
That a person should not cross a bridge before he reaches it. Neither should a person think of crossing the new Pawtucket bridge until it is constructed.
That some local lawyers are wondering if the proper authorities will think it worth their while to take notice of an alleged case of perjury in a superior court trial.
That 31 years ago when Daniel Sullivan was attending the Moody school in East Merrimack street he did not think he would later become the owner of the property.
That when a person notices the large attendances at the various moving picture houses throughout the city he does not wonder why some of the stars are paid small fortunes for their efforts.
That the "Man in the Moon" should take a friend with him on his next fishing trip in New Hampshire. The lone fisherman's story of big catches even of brook trout is not always accepted as genuine.
That owing to the popularity of the Ford automobile there are more of that make of machine stolen than any other kind of automobile. There isn't a day that passes that the local police do not receive notice of the larceny of scores of "fivers."

A VISIT TO CONCORD

PUPILS OF RIVERSIDE SCHOOL ENJOYED INSTRUCTIVE TRIP WITH MISS BURNS

Pupils of the eighth and ninth grades of the Riverside school enjoyed a very delightful visit to Concord, Mass. yesterday under the personal direction of their principal, Miss Rosalie T. Burns. It was the first visit of most of the youngsters to the historic spot, and they were lost in admiration of its wonders. Their first stop was at the home of Louisa M. Alcott, and the homes of Hawthorne and Emerson were given passing notice. The next trip was to the old bridge and to the scene of the battle that attracts visitors from all over the world. Sleepy Hollow was also visited, with its famous graves, and the other points of interest in a spot that illustrates American history so vividly. Miss Burns not only conducted the happy party but gave impromptu talks that made her charge realize the significance of the visit.

The building is owned by David and Delia McCuskey. At 1.10 o'clock the members of Hose Co. No. 5 were called to the First street dump where there was a fire in progress.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Genuine Bears Signature

Reports from Europe tell of disturbances in Berlin and other German cities around the newly instituted street kitchens. According to the accounts from the allied countries there were serious riots. German stories, however, assert that the street kitchens were merely experimental; that the people were not accustomed to them and naturally thronged about them in some confusion. Illustration shows crowd around street kitchen in German city. The sign reads: "Municipal Kitchen Wagon. Warm Dinner, 35 Pfennigs Plate."

FOR COLLEGE EXTENSION AT ST. MICHAEL'S MISSION

Mr. Robt. H. Spahr of State Board Outlines Plan for Courses in This City

Under the auspices of the Lowell Teachers' organization Mr. Robert H. Spahr of the University Extension department of the state board of education came to Lowell yesterday afternoon and spoke on the new state educational movement before an interested audience. Mr. Spahr is in charge of the work of class organization and being familiar with the detailed workings of the system gave a clear account of the great work and outlined its possibilities so that all present were most enthusiastic at the close.

Supt. Hugh J. Molloy presided and made a brief address of welcome during which he asked that the local teachers serve as missionaries to spread the news of university extension among the public.

Mr. Spahr said in opening that the term "university extension" is rather vague as it embraces a number of subjects which are not university subjects. At present the state board has listed 70 subjects which may be taken by correspondence, though all cannot be taken by classes. The work of organization began in January and the correspondence courses were the first to be attended to. Already the movement has had far greater success than was anticipated. After presenting statistics of growth, etc., the committee was granted the full appropriation asked for by the legislature, though no other committee has had similar success at this session. University extension under state auspices has recently been referred to in the legislature as a "dusty infant." Already there are 1200 enrollments in the correspondence course which is patterned after the system of the University of Chicago.

After the correspondence courses, said Mr. Spahr, the next work attended to was the "class division." Organized for 10 weeks or so, it already has 300 students. There are five classes now running and some have closed the half season. Classes are at Gloucester, Leominster, Rockland, Holyoke, Springfield and Boston. The board will be ready to start out on a much larger field early in the fall, and there are so many applications for classes that he urged Lowell to organize early if it wants classes. First come will be first served, and the board will scarcely be able to meet all demands for instructors, etc.

Classes are formed only in subjects that are not taught in the local schools as those in charge of the extension of the work we hope to avoid any semblance of rivalry or duplication. The system is not in conflict with that of the public schools, but is supplementary to it. The cost is the same by class or by correspondence. There is no charge for instructors, but there is a small registration fee and the cost of books and incidentals. In no course is the charge larger than $5 and in most courses it is about $3, books included. The work costs the state a great deal, the 10 lessons in Gloucester, for instance, have cost $500. The best teacher obtainable is engaged, the various college faculties being drawn from liberally.

Mr. Spahr mentioned five or six subjects which are found especially interesting and in which there is a strong demand for classes. These include English composition A, and English composition B, which is a course in short story writing, economics, sociology, United States history and commercial Spanish, etc.

To have a class, at least 20 persons must enroll for a certain subject. The class will meet just as often as it wants to, but the speaker thought that once a week would prove sufficient. In Holyoke they were given so much work that they decided to have a class once in two weeks.

Another method is the "group" system which is half way between the correspondence courses and the class instruction. If at least 10 who enroll in a subject by correspondence get together as a class, they may meet once a week and work up their lessons. A secretary or chairman sends these lessons to the state house and an instructor will be sent to every fourth meeting. This gives the personal touch that is lost in correspondence courses. Any subject may be taken by the study group.

"If you start classes," said Mr. Spahr, "we will do our best for you. We employ the best teachers from the colleges and universities of the state, and we will hold our students to high standards. We do not want those who look for a picnic or amusement; we want those who will do real work. The whole idea is to be of benefit to those who need it, to form a college of the people. How many there are in Lowell who completed their education on graduating from high school. It is for you to reach such and to show them the value of this great opportunity. We will give certificates in the various branches, both class and correspondence, and in the extension of the work we hope that our recognition will mean a great deal in the higher institutions of learning. Next winter I hope we'll get a working college in Lowell, and you can do great good by spreading knowledge of our aims and achievements."

The teachers' organization will form a committee to start the work of forming classes and enrolling correspondence students.

Another Powerful Sermon by Dominican Preacher—Terrible Effect of Sins of the Tongue

At the mission for women at St. Michael's church last evening, another powerful sermon was given by Rev. Fr. Healey, O.P., and was listened to by a congregation that filled every part of the edifice. The reverend preacher spoke as follows on "Sins of the Tongue":

"There is hardly anything in the world so powerful for good or evil as conversation. The value of a single word can hardly be exaggerated. One word brought misery into the world in the beginning and often in the dull silence of the human heart, like a lightning flash, a single word brings endless desolation. Earth can forget no longer what that cruel word that, through years of remembrance, echoes in the broken heart dealing pain and certain death.

We are at peace with the world. Our spirits are calm as the calmest lake and clear as the heavens. We gaze upon it, and suddenly, within one word, a storm sweeps across our souls. Its deepest depths are stirred never more to slumber. We are confident of success and, with one word, life loses its charm. In our listening heart that word nestles and only with the heart's last throbbing can it fade away.

Friendships that have linked souls together as with chains of steel have been broken by the baneful influence of a spoken word. To souls pure as untarnished snow, one word has opened doors of immortality that can never be closed.

On the other hand, what wonders have been wrought through the agency of words. One word in the mouth of the Creator and earth itself sprang into being; one word of consent from Mary's lips and the Son of God was born. With one word Christ calmed the winds and the waves, by the potent energy of His words He turned bread and wine into His body and blood, and by the repetition of these sacred words the priest today brings life to the people. Many a man has been saved by the words of a priest, many a woman by the words of a sister.

Now, my dear women, to what use are your words put? Is your conversation, your use of words what God would have it? Do your words work for the uplift or the downfall of the human race? Do you use your tongue to glorify in the praise of God? Do you keep the peace of God from their hearts? Many would turn their backs on sin if some one interested would speak to them a kind word. Suppose you know a girl lost to every sense of decency, a girl who has no sense of the value of her life? It is something she never hears perhaps, and one word from a friend may help turn her from her evil ways. Another has started on the road to evil. People talk about her scorn and turn away from her. She looks for solace and finds none, returns to her evil ways unless some kind soul speaks to her a word of sympathy, encouragement or advice. It makes her feel there is still kindness in the world and she turns her back on sin and becomes again a child of God.

Others have given themselves to friendships which they have found unsatisfactory, vain and false. Some one tells them to turn their disappointment to peace, their failure to success. They gladly take up their cross and go, they reach Calvary's height from which they behold the not far distant Olivet.

The abuse of our words is in the breaking of God's commandments. The second, fifth, sixth and eighth commandments may be broken by the improper use of words. Take the second commandment for instance, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain." You love your own name. You know your own shortcomings, your faults, your own shortcomings. You want to stand for every good quality you possess. No woman has sunk so low that she places no value on her name. Now God prizes His name. In the beginning He did not even reveal it to man. In the Old Testament the name "God" was more familiar to us in the use of His name. Strange, it is not that the more God manifests His love, the more His name is revealed. No man will challenge the power of God, yet they dare reveal His name. The name "God" stands for love, pardon, protection, eternal fatherhood. What does it mean on the lips of the brazen girl who couples with an obscene story the name of her Creator?

The mother who wishes her children to be good makes rules for their conduct. The children in course of time break one or more of these rules. What does the mother do? She flies into a passion. The name of God is hurled at her little ones. Sometimes it is heard for the first time by the child from a mother in a horrible frenzy. Here is a girl we think naturally good. But let something happen and like an explosion, the name of God comes from her lips. And these same people will kneel down and say, "Hallowed be thy name!" What mockery! That name that should stand for love, for kindness, for fatherhood, abused and desecrated! How low they sink who abuse the name of God!

When her angelic visitor announced to Mary that she should bring forth a Son, and that He should be called Jesus, that name brought before her vision the three and thirty years of her divine motherhood. She felt the coldness of Bethlehem, she beheld the peace of Nazareth, the agony of Gethsemane, the tragedy of Calvary. The name Jesus meant all these to her. Before the throne angelic choirs make the heavens re-echo with the sweet melody of his name. The new-born babe is cleansed from sin through the power of that name. In His name our souls are bathed in the blood red waters of His mercy. When we are dying and devils taunt us and our sins torment us, what will give us hope and comfort but the name of Jesus? When the priest of God standing over us bids our souls take up their flight to eternity he will command them to depart from this world in the name of God who created them, in the name of Jesus Christ who redeemed them. When the gates of heaven were closed to us they were re-opened in the name of Jesus and in heaven or on earth there is no other name by which we may be saved. What then are we to think of the women who make this adorable name a target for abuse?

Women there are who use the name of God as a whip and lash and then kneel down and pray, "Hallowed be thy name!" Catholic women, do all in your power to prevent irreverence in this regard. Love and praise the name of God your Creator and Redeemer.

The fifth commandment says: "Thou shalt not kill." But a word can kill. Yes, words can kill. Many a canoe or camp is a den of uncleanness where words that kill are poured into the hearts of the once pure minded girl. There are devils of women as well as men who entice girls to places in themselves attractive, but in which a girl has learned her first lesson in wrong doing. Isn't the girl or woman who entices by her words killing an immortal soul? Because they themselves have plunged into iniquity instead of praying that others may be spared, they paint for the inquirer a picture of the pleasures of sin. She who by the use of her tongue leads another to sin is killing a soul by her words.

Marriage to all women should mean motherhood if it is God's will. If it is aught else, it is a crime and a desecration of the sacrament of matrimony. There are those wicked enough to tempt the women who does God's will. There are those who will teach her to raise a barrier to it. Into the lowest hell will descend the souls of the women who prevent innocent souls from knowing the name of Jesus. On Judgment day, when God asks: "Where are my children?" the words of these diabolical women will come back to torment their souls through all eternity.

Are you careful that your language at home does not provoke to sin? Outside the home many have nothing but words of kindness and gentleness, but at home, the actions of a brother or sister are not with resentment, or ill will. There are those who will be patient and kind, docile and submissive, but if mother makes a suggestion—well "she is ignorant." Do your words at home kill your mothers' joy? Do you strive to make home happy? Is your voice a song or a discord there?

The temper story is another abuse of words. Fifteen years ago an impure conversation was an unknown thing among women supposedly decent. Today the language of sin seems a part of a person's education, to be able to tell an obscene story an accomplishment. Hence can any one say an impure story does no harm? If of ten lurks in the mind till the thought becomes a desire and the desire an act. The one who tells such a story is surely responsible for every thought and act that follows as a consequence of her words. Many a soul today might be leading a holy life were it not for the immoral words of a friend or companion.

The eighth commandment obliges us to be careful of the reputation of our neighbor. There are those who think if they accuse another of faults to her face they are committing no sin. There are some of those "hotter than thou" people who seem to take pleasure in denouncing a poor unfortunate woman, no matter how many listeners or lookers-on there may be about. This is not charity. This denunciation does more harm than good. If we really wish to cure another of her faults, we should take her aside, talk to her in a kindly tone, tell her what we expected and how we were disappointed in her. This mode of treatment is very apt to raise the object of it to live up to the confidence and hopes of her would-be friend. Harsh treatment brings nothing but anger and hatred in its train. The person in question will try to appear bold and who is to blame? To denounce the faults of one person in the presence of others is an abuse of words. We hurt our neighbor by detraction.

We all have faults, but we hope that over them our neighbors will throw the mantle of charity. Let us follow the example of our Lord. How devilish it is for any one to pick out flaws in the character of one who perhaps is doing her utmost to lead a good life.

You say perhaps you never mention the faults of another except in your own family circle. You would not go to the store and buy diseased meat for your family! Why feed the minds of your family with the garbage of your neighbors' faults?

There are mothers mean enough to reveal to their children the faults of their father. The traitor in the house is the worst of all traitors. What kind of mothers are they who rejoice in publishing or two do not strive to conceal the faults or imperfections of their husbands and the fathers of their children?

Is there one here who has not felt the sting of detraction? Consider for a moment the action of our Lord toward the women taken in sin. Those gathered around her point her out as an object of scorn and contempt. Our Lord, seeing her sorrow and confusion, and knowing the hearts of her accusers, stooped to the earth for a moment, making a few signs in the sand. He hid the men about Him, read the story of their own wickedness. In shame they all walked away. Then turning to the woman, He said: "Is there none here to accuse you?"

In every land there are women who usurp the power of Christ. They are persecutors and rejoice when their vile story or word is a success. Down south there is a bird that gorges itself on decaying flesh. We have buzzards elsewhere than in the south—human buzzards, whose ears are open to every scandal—scavengers who refuse nothing that is vile. Be kind to see good in everyone. Be ever ready to use your words to encourage, to sympathize, to help souls turn their backs on sin. See no evil in your neighbor, speak no evil of him. Remember that "if any man fail not in his words, the same is a perfect man."

Closing Services
On Sunday the women's mission will close. The closing service will be at two for married women, at four o'clock for the unmarried. A week's mission for men will open in the evening.

PREPAREDNESS PARADE
Continued

On Sunday the women's mission will close. The closing service will be at two for married women, at four o'clock for the unmarried. A week's mission for men will open in the evening.

The parade headquarters are in the mayor's reception room and Miss Lillie H. Cutler is acting as secretary. Several letters were received at headquarters today from persons desirous of assisting in the preparation and participating in the parade.

"All up for the big parade," said a caller at the mayor's office this morning. "I was in that big preparedness parade in Boston," he continued, "and I tell you it was a great thing. It did something more than make the enormous crowds of spectators cheer. It made them think. It plucked the depths. It brought moisture to cheeks. It brought tears. It brought lumps into the throat, but best of all, it brought out the vital, inherent patriotism that is the heritage of every American. Go to it, Mr. Mayor, you know you will make good."

The mayor allowed that if there are many men in Lowell with the spirit and patriotism of his caller that there will be no doubt as to the success of Lowell's preparedness parade. Mr. Arthur Brown of the Riker-Jaynes company in Lowell has made the suggestion that if all the ex-army, ex-navy and ex-militia men in Lowell, as he says he knows there's a lot of them here, will meet him at city hall Thursday evening at 6 o'clock he will form a company for the parade.

It is expected that the Bay State Street Railway will have men in line and in uniform. It will probably be a pretty busy time for the street railway, but there will be a number of conductors and motormen who will probably have interest enough in the parade to participate in it. It is expected, too, that the business men's battalion will take part. The night of June 14 will be their regular drill night, but they can take their drill in the parade instead of at headquarters.

They Want to Parade
The mayor received communications today from two insurance companies today asking that they be assigned to places in line. The following are copies of the communications:

REVISED NEUTRALITY LAWS

General Revision Proposed to Congress in Memorandum Submitted by Attorney General

WASHINGTON, June 2.—General revision of American neutrality laws was proposed to congress today in a memorandum submitted by Attorney General Gregory and concurred in by the state department, as a result of the government's experience with problems arising out of the war and of relations with Mexico.

Enactment of 18 new laws is recommended to correct defects in existing statutes to cover present omission of law "for the observance of obligations imperatively imposed by international law upon the United States" and to make crimes against American neutrality punishable under federal laws.

At present many such acts do not violate federal criminal law. Almost every phase of activity in the United States on behalf of foreign governments which has resulted in federal prosecution under the broad charge of conspiracy would be made specifically criminal by the proposed legislation.

In addition, the powers of the president would be broadened with respect to withholding clearance to suspected vessels, further employment of the land and naval forces to preserve neutrality, imposing a more rigid censorship upon wireless and cable messages to belligerent countries, and seizing arms and ammunition about to be exported in violation of an embargo.

One of the proposed laws would authorize collectors of customs or other persons duly empowered by the president to inspect foreign private vessels in American ports for the purpose of "investigating and detecting any use or attempted use" of the vessels in violation of neutrality laws. The laws of such vessels as a place of resort for conspirators against American neutrality would also be made a crime. Another law would make criminal certain activities here of foreign spies.

George H. Spillane, Superintendent.

The Metropolitan
Lowell, June 3, 1916.
Hon. James E. O'Donnell, Mayor of Lowell.
Dear Mr. O'Donnell:—
I would like to inform you that a staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company will take part in the preparedness parade which is to be held on the evening of June 14.

We are very glad to co-operate in this movement which we feel is one which should receive universal support.
Yours very truly,

MATRIMONIAL
A pretty marriage took place Thursday evening when Charles A. Craig and Miss Louise Hamilton were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at Notre Dame de Lourdes rectory by the pastor, Rev. Leon Lamotte, O.M.I. The bride wore white crepe de chine and carried white carnations. She was attended by Miss Hamilton, who was attired in yellow crepe de chine and carried carnations. The best man was a brother of the bridegroom, Sydney Craig. Following the ceremony the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to the White mountains. They will be at home to their friends at 178 Pawtucket street after July 1.

HUNT MURDERER

Reward for Capture of Slayer of Melrose Girl—Funeral Today

MELROSE, June 3.—Early action toward the apprehension of the murderer of Loretta Wakelin, the seven-year-old child who was killed Thursday after being assaulted while on her way to school, was promised by Mayor Charles H. Adams today. When Joseph Wakelin, father of the child, sought to have the city add to a reward of $500 which he has offered for the arrest of the slayer, the mayor told him that developments were expected very soon which would make the offer of a reward unnecessary.

The efforts of the state and local police, which were commended by Mayor Adams, were directed along no special line of inquiry, however. Some of the officers were endeavoring to locate two young men, neighbors of the Wakelins who left home early yesterday. Others remained near the scene of the crime investigating circumstances of the killing.

The child's funeral was set for this afternoon.

FOR ROOSEVELT DEMMIES CONVENTION

The Progressives to Use Influence to Induce G.O.P. to Name Him

CHICAGO, June 3.—Progressive party leaders after a conference today declared their intention of using every influence at their command to induce the republican national convention to nominate Theodore Roosevelt for president.

If they fail to make Roosevelt the republican nominee they say they are willing to consider the qualifications of other candidates.

Numerous informal conferences between progressive and republican groups already have been held and others are arranged in the effort to bring about harmony. Republican organization leaders apparently are doing nothing to offend the friends of Roosevelt in the preliminary maneuvers. They are willing, it is said, to permit the progressives to dictate the party platform and name the candidate for vice president, but they are vigorously opposed to nominating Roosevelt for president. They hope to select a man, it was said, that Roosevelt and his friends can support on a platform of Americanism and preparedness.

George W. Perkins, chairman of the executive committee of the progressive party, said: "There have been a number of conferences between the republican and progressive leaders, but no definite result has been accomplished. We are for Roosevelt to the end and insist he should be nominated. We are willing to meet the republicans halfway in the interest of harmony. And we repeat that harmony is not necessary if it is to be the nomination of Roosevelt."

This little word is used very often in daily life; because people nowadays want to know the reason for everything. Of course they have a right to know, but in some cases it is hard to find an answer for the little word. # GERMAN VICTORY SOUTH OF YPRES

Ridges of Heights South-East of Zillebeke and British Position Captured by Storm by German Troops

BRUSSELS, June 3 (via London, 5.55 p. m.).—The ridges of the heights south-east of Zillebeke, southeast of Ypres, Belgium, and the British position beyond have been captured by storm by German troops, the war office announced today.

One general, slightly wounded, one major and 13 other officers, besides 350 unmounted men, were taken prisoner by the Germans in the attack.

"We captured by storm on Friday the ridges of the heights southeast of Zillebeke, southeast of Ypres and the English position beyond, taking prisoner one general, slightly wounded, one major and 13 other officers and 350 unmounted men. The number of prisoners taken was small, the enemy having suffered very sanguinary losses.

"During the night attempted counterattacks made by the enemy were easily repulsed.

"North of Arras and in the region of Albert the artillery duel continues.

"In the Champagne, south of Ripont, one of our reconnoitering detachments brought in more than 200 French prisoners as the result of our small hostile incursion.

"West of the Meuse the enemy's batteries and fortified positions were shelled with visible success.

"East of the Meuse the French suffered a further reverse. During the early hours this morning a strong attack against our recently won position southwest of Caillotte was repulsed. Further east the French repeatedly attempted yesterday to penetrate by storm attacks our trenches southwest of Vaux. All failed with very sanguinary losses for the enemy.

"Stubborn fighting favorable for us is proceeding in the region southeast of Vaux.

"On the eastern slopes of the Vaux heights we extensively shelled the fortified village of Damplois and 520 unmounted soldiers, including ten officers, were made prisoner and several machine guns were captured.

"While being led away by way of Dieppe some French prisoners came under the fire of heavy batteries of the enemy.

"Aviation: Our field artillery shot down a French biplane over Vaux.

"The biplane mentioned in yesterday's statement as being shot down west of Moerchingen was the fourth machine brought down by Lieut. Hoeftendorf.

"Eastern and Balkan theatres: Apart from patrol engagements there is nothing to report."

ROME REPORTS INTENSE AND DESPERATE STRUGGLE ALONG FRONT

ROME, via London, June 3.—An official announcement by the Italian war office published today says: "An immense and desperate struggle is taking place along our positions south of the Asa valley as far as Asiago. Our troops are still masters of the lower plateau of Monte Cengio, where they are resisting vigorous and incessant infantry attacks supported by a bombardment of extreme violence.

"On the part of our front parallel with Edgno and Gallo, on the Valledi-Campomonte road, yesterday, our counter-offensive, although seriously impeded by the artillery fire of the enemy, enabled us to make some progress.

"The situation is unchanged in the Sugana valley. On the Isongo front there is artillery activity, on the heights northwest of Nuvola in the Montafone sector. The enemy's movements in the neighborhood of the Ovelada railroad station have been hindered by our artillery fire."

BRITISH ADMIRALTY IN STATEMENT TO ASSOCIATED PRESS CLAIMS VICTORY

LONDON, June 3.—At the British admiralty today the following statement was made to the Associated Press:

"We went out within enemy waters seeking a fight. Our inferior fleet engaged the entire German battle fleet, forced them to return to harbor and to give up any plan of action they may have contemplated."

PARIS ADMITS GERMAN PENETRATED DITCH NORTH OF MAIN POSITIONS

PARIS, June 3, 12.30 p. m.—In the course of repeated and violent attacks last night on Fort Vaux on the Verdun front east of the Meuse, the Germans penetrated a deep ditch north of the main French position. The interior of the works, the war office announcement of today says, is still held by the French.

Except for this gain, the statement says, the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses. Spirited fighting continued in the Argonne west of the Verdun sector. Two German attacks west of Fille Morte were beaten back.

LONDON PAPER RAPS BRITISH ACCOUNT OF JUTLAND BATTLE

LONDON, June 3.—The British admiralty's account of the Jutland battle is sharply criticised by The Daily Mail which says: "The public will be somewhat surprised by the lone British report which purports to give an account of the battle. After relating our losses it becomes curiously vague and contains what we never were accustomed to see in British naval reports, namely, excuses.

"We are told for example that the enemy's battle fleet aided by low visibility avoided a prolonged action with our main forces. The fact appears, however, from this involved and obscure narrative, that the enemy engaged part of our fleet with his own strength and delivered a

5000 BRITISH AND 3000 GERMAN SAILORS DROWNED

Further Details Emphasize Advantage Gained by Germans—German Dreadnought and Two Other Vessels Added to Those Sunk—Entire Crew of the Queen Mary Drowned—British Admiral Marlborough and Warspite Damaged—Admiralty Besieged

Fuller details of the great naval battle off Horn's Reef in the North sea emphasize the advantage gained by the Germans in inflicting heavy losses upon the British fleet while escaping with considerable smaller damage themselves.

The German estimates of the tonnage destroyed place it at 133,000 tons on the British and 23,000 on the German side. The German figures, however, probably are based on the assumption that the British battleship Warspite was among the vessels sunk, which is denied by the British admiralty.

5000 Lives Lost

According to estimates made at Portsmouth, Eng., the British losses are 5000 men, while the German losses were between 2000 and 3000 men.

It has not appeared from any of the accounts that the British main battle-ship fleet was actually engaged. Four battleships, however, were in the fleet that supported the battle cruiser squadron. This speedy collection of warships is supposed to have attempted to cut off the retreat of the German fleet. In this it lost three of its units—the main damage suffered by the British.

Two Zeppelins Destroyed

Zeppelin airships played an important part in the engagement, according to various accounts, their superiority as scouts apparently giving the Germans a marked advantage in disposing their forces to meet the British movements. Despatches today report that two Zeppelins, supposedly among those engaged in this work, were destroyed.

Cruiser Elbing Lost

Among the additions to the list of vessels lost in the engagement is the German cruiser Elbing, according to neutral accounts of the battle. The Elbing was a speedy new cruiser of between 4000 and 5000 tons, carrying a crew of 450 men.

Germans Gain at Verdun

In the battle still raging at Verdun the Germans are continuing their efforts to force the French lines north-east of the fortress. Their latest effort was made last night on Fort Vaux, where they succeeded in penetrating a deep ditch north of the main French positions. The French, however, declare that they still hold the interior of the works and that all other attacks by the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses.

In the southern Tyrol the Austrians are desperately attacking the Italian positions south of the Asa valley as far as Asiago. The Italians declare that the offensive here is being held in check and that a counter offensive in a nearby sector resulted in some progress for Gen. Cadorna's forces.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY ADMITS WARSPITE AND MARLBOROUGH DAMAGED

LONDON, June 3, 4.40 p. m.—The British admiralty stated today that the battleship Marlborough was hit by a torpedo but was towed safely to port.

The dreadnought Warspite was damaged by gunfire, the admiralty added, but escaped torpedoes.

PORTSMOUTH ESTIMATES THAT 8000 PERISHED IN NAVAL BATTLE

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 3.—According to estimates made here the British losses in men in the North sea battle must be somewhere in the neighborhood of 5000. It is similarly estimated that the German losses were at least between 2000 and 3000 men.

No attempt is made here to minimize the seriousness of the British losses in ships and men, and that according to present information the German fleet had the best of the

85 OF CREW OF BRITISH DESTROYER SHARK LOST IN NAVAL BATTLE

LONDON, June 3.—Eighty-five of the crew of 92 men aboard the British destroyer Shark were lost in the belief of seven survivors who were landed at Hull yesterday by a Danish steamship. These men were picked up in the North sea on Thursday. They stated that the Shark acted as a decoy boat in the engagement.

The Shark was not named in the official reports of British losses. She was a sister ship of the Sparrowhawk, Ardent and Fortune, all of which went down.

GERMAN TORPEDO BOAT V-28 LOST IN NAVAL BATTLE—3 OF CREW SAVED

LONDON, June 3, 5.21 p. m.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen says the German torpedo boat V-28 was sunk during the naval engagement. Three survivors who were rescued from a raft by a Swedish steamship, reported, the despatch states, that all the rest of the crew of 102 were lost.

According to this despatch the survivors of the V-28 said they believed twenty German torpedo boats were destroyed and that the German losses as a whole were "colossal."

MANY OFFICERS LOST IN BIG NAVAL BATTLE IN NORTH SEA

LONDON, June 3, 5.21 p. m.—An official statement given out today shows that, with a few exceptions, all the officers on the Invincible, Queen Mary, Indefatigable, Defence and Black Prince were lost. All the officers of the Warrior except one were saved.

The admiralty reports that four midshipmen were saved from the Queen Mary. Commander Daneruth and one other officer aboard the battleship cruisers and all officers on the Indefatigable, Defence and Black Prince were lost.

TWO ZEPPELINS ARE SAID TO HAVE BEEN DESTROYED IN BATTLE

ESBJERG, Denmark, June 2, via London, June 3, 12.15 p. m.—Two Zeppelin dirigible balloons are reported by fishermen returning to port today to have been destroyed. On one airship all the members of the crew are said to have perished.

ESTIMATED THAT 150 VESSELS ENGAGED IN THE NAVAL BATTLE

LONDON, June 3.—A report from The Hague as forwarded from Amsterdam to the Central News is to the effect that six German destroyers were sunk by the British and that a large cruiser, severely damaged, was towed into the harbor at Kiel. It is estimated 150 ships engaged in the battle.

It is not considered probable the shipwrecked British and German sailors will be interned in Holland as they have promised not to attempt to escape. The German minister at The Hague will go to Ynuiden to make an investigation.

MORE VESSELS ADDED TO THOSE REPORTED LOST IN NAVAL BATTLE

growing list of vessels sunk in the great naval engagement off the Jutland coast, according to a wireless despatch from Berlin, which states that the German admiralty admits the loss of this warship.

Additions earlier in the day were the German cruiser, Elbing, displacing between 4000 and 5000 tons, and the British destroyer Shark. Nearly all the men who manned the destroyer were lost.

The latest British statement regarding the outcome of the engagement shows that the admiralty views it as not at all unfavorable to the British. It is declared that they sought out the Germans, engaged their entire fleet with inferior forces, compelled them to put back to port and give up "any plan of action they may have contemplated."

The losses on the British side, estimated at 5000 may be nearly matched by those of the Germans, if the latest reports on the number of German warships lost are confirmed. In the British casualty list are included Capt. Frowse and the entire complement of the battle cruiser Queen Mary, which probably had between 800 and 950 men on board. Rear Admiral Horace Hood has been lost with the battle cruiser Invincible.

Two of the Zeppelins which played such an important part in the engagement by keeping the Germans informed of the British fleet's movements were destroyed, according to reports brought in by Danish fishermen who declare that the entire crew of one of the airships perished when the craft was burned.

WOUNDED MEN FROM NORTH SEA BATTLE REACH LONDON

LONDON, June 3.—Wounded men from the North sea battle reached London this morning.

The public was strictly prohibited from talking to the men but crowds assembled outside the barriers at the railway stations, cheering them.

There is no estimate of the number of wounded but it is feared that the loss of life will exceed 5000 officers and men including the whole crew of the Queen Mary. There is no news of the crews of other ships lost but the Germans report that they picked up some and a few have arrived at neutral ports.

The German loss of life must have been almost as great as that of the British, if the British estimate of the destruction of two battleships and a battle cruiser and other smaller ships is correct.

The scenes at the admiralty this morning were most distressing, the big building being besieged by relatives and friends of the crews that were in the engagement.

As for the light and its result there is an inclination this morning after the receipt of the later official account not to consider the outcome of the engagement so disastrous as it was at first thought, although no attempt was made to minimize it.

Besides the loss of ships and of life causing sorrow, the feelings of the public were aroused by the fact that the Germans had succeeded as they naturally aimed at doing, in engaging a section of the British fleet and handling it severely before the main British fleet came on the scene and in this connection the admiralty is criticized in some quarters for allowing a portion of the fleet to get so far from the main fleet.

It is absolutely denied, as reported by the German admiralty, that the Germans engaged the grand fleet. On the other hand, according to Capt. Fisher of the admiralty, they made for their ports on the approach of the grand fleet.

Zeppelins, say the naval writers, gave the Germans a great advantage, enabling them to get quick reports of the strength and position of the British fleet which they then used in the approach of the approach of the main fleet so that they could get away before being engaged by a superior force.

Fishermen arriving at Dutch ports state that some 15 in the battle and dozens took part in the approach of the main British fleet a "star shot" was fired as an order for the German fleet to retire.

BATTLE OF VERDUN HAS REACHED A POINT OF UNPRECEDENTED VIOLENCE

PARIS, June 3.—The battle of Verdun reached a point of unprecedented violence in the last 48 hours. The Germans made a formidable effort to mass reinforcements on the right bank of the Meuse, supported by a great number of heavy pieces drawn from other fronts.

The concentration of the German forces is taken here to indicate a sudden attempt to bring the long drawn out attack on the fortress to a successful issue and to prevent a general offensive by the allies. Despite the intensity of the attack, involving enormous losses, the French official accounts show that the main lines are not essentially changed. The furthest point reached by the Germans was houses on the outskirts of Damblain. The main portion of the town is strongly held by the French.

CHANGE NAVAL BILL

TILMAN WANTS SIX BATTLE CRUISERS AND TWO DREADNAUGHTS

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Chairman Tilman of the senate naval committee announced today that he would lead a fight in the senate to change the naval appropriation bill so as to provide for six battle cruisers and two dreadnaughts, instead of five battle cruisers and no dreadnaughts as the bill passed by the house yesterday.

Senator Tilman explained that his action was not based on the naval engagement in the North sea because he had not received sufficient data to pick out lessons it would teach.

"But my mind is made up on this far," he said. "I believe the house bill should be materially changed and I believe the senate is of the same opinion. I am in favor of six battle cruisers and two dreadnaughts."

OUR LOSSES BY FIRE | POLICE COURT SESSION | NEW FIRE APPARATUS

NO SERIOUS FIRES DURING FIRST FIVE MONTHS OF PRESENT YEAR

The fire loss during the first five months of this year is the smallest in the history of the city for many years, there having been but one really big fire this year, that being the one which broke out in the plant of the Merrimack Utilization Co. in Warren street in January. Inasmuch as considerable of the material in the plant was salvaged the exact loss has not as yet been returned to the chief of the fire department. The losses for the month of May have not been compiled yet but it is known that it will not be as high as during the corresponding month last year.

During the first four months of this year, excepting the fire in Warren street, the total loss was $24,002.71 as against $99,400.85 for the same period last year. The loss during the first third of last year was high on account of the fire in the Memorial building.

The following table shows the comparative loss during the first four months of 1915 and 1916:

	1915	1916
January	$4589.10	$12,253.18
February	$478.78	$2,400.83
March	$562.33	$8,513.30
April	$491.55	$2,215.55
	$24,002.71	$99,400.85

CASE IN WHICH SUPERSTITION PLAYED A PART—HUSBAND HAD WIFE ARRESTED

An interesting case was due to take place in police court this morning in the event of the case of Mohammed and Abdul Harnoush, charged with larceny, going to trial, but counsel in case, Messrs. Daniel J. Donahue and Dennis J. Murphy, after a consultation reached a mutual agreement and at their request Judge Fisher placed the case on file.

The Harnoush brothers were charged with the larceny of a watch valued at $15, a book worth $1 and four cents in money, the property of Gertie Alt, the larceny having been committed on May 25th.

The principals in the case reside in Collinsville and according to the story told the court by counsel the defendants are very superstitious. It is said that the book which was stolen from Alt contained two letters, both of which had been written by an Arab to the Harnoush house and that the latter if he so desired could use the letters to bring the visitation of evil spirits on others.

Mohammed Harnoush, who was married recently learned of the letters which Ali possessed and inasmuch as they had been written by an Arabian clergyman he felt that Ali might try to have the evil spirit hover over the Harnoush home. After a consultation with his brother, Abdul, Mohamed decided that he must get possession of the letters or else he might lose the love of his wife. Accordingly Ali was invited to the Harnoush house and while there the watch, book, containing the letters and four cents in money were taken. The matter was reported to Officer William Cullinan of Precinct and he had little or no difficulty in securing the watch and money but when it came to getting the letters that was another matter.

The Harnoush brothers fearing that the evil one might get them if they parted with the letters refused to give them up and Ali felt that in the loss of the letters he would be visited by sickness and probably death.

When the Harnoush brothers were arrested they seemed concerned as did Ali, the complainant and when each side told the story the lawyers saw at once that a long drawn out session in police court was due if the case went to trial. Messrs. Murphy and Donahue decided that a little diplomacy would be to be present. The friends of the matter and accordingly they got their clients together and when the defendants were willing to return the mystic letters to Ali it was agreed that satisfaction had been made.

IT IS LOCATED AT STATIONS—OLD MACHINES BEING RE-PAIRED

According to a statement made by Commissioner Newell P. Putnam the three new pieces of self propelled fire apparatus will be placed in commission tonight. The triple combination pumping engine will be located at the central fire station while one of the combinations will be assigned to the Gorham street engine house and the other at Hose 13's house in West Centralville.

Messrs. Willis and Heinze, of the Robinson Co., will remain in Lowell until the men who are to operate the machines are familiar with their mechanism.

At the present time the Highlands district is very poorly protected in the event of a big fire, the only engine in that district being in the repair shop. The engine in question is antiquated and was at one time stationed at the central fire station.

The wheels were equipped with iron tires which had worn down and it was difficult for the driver to get his horses to pull the wheels out of the car tracks. The old steamer at the central fire station, which has not been used for years, was stripped of its rubber tired wheels and these wheels are being placed on the engine which is located in the Highlands district.

Leave for G. O. P. Convention at Chicago — Notes of Interest From Washington

Special to The Sun
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3.—Holding tight the bit of green pasteboard that paved the way to unchallenged entrance to the White House grounds, each guest bidden to Mrs. Wilson's last at home like through the big east gate. Then past the long corridor, the old-fashioned boxwood edged garden, and along winding, elm shaded paths to where Mrs. Wilson and the president greeted their guests under oaks and elms of a century's growth. The tall officer standing beside the president bowed slightly as he listened for your name, which you whispered in his ear; he then announced you by name as he presented you to the president, who in turn presented you by name to Mrs. Wilson, who deftly passed you along into space with a dexterous twist of the wrist, in the handshake she gave, which said as plainly as words, "Please step lively." Then you found yourself wandering towards the gay little marquee tent of red and white where and where the linking of the tee against the big cut glass bowl made you forget that you were all dolled up for the party and the thermometer stood 90 degrees in the shade. It was a wonderfully pretty scene, with the great trees throwing a restful shade, the garden bright with summer bloom, great fountains playing, hundreds of women in white and gay colors with silver parasols, hundreds of men in military uniforms and much gold lace and hundreds more of the navy, which has got a lap ahead of the army by going into its summer uniform, and so as officers wore white duck embellished with gold epaulettes and their white duck caps gold trimmed. The tall Marine band in vivid scarlet played on the lawn; and in the near distance the Washington monument loomed over all like a clear cut cameo against the rose tints of the setting sun.

The president stood during the two hours of the reception with his tall silk hat tightly grasped in his left hand, while he shook 1500 outstretched hands with his right.

Mrs. Wilson wore a handsome gown of white with a big picture hat and plumes of white. Everybody met everybody they knew, and it was informal and just like any other lawn party, after the first formality of presentation by the military aid to the president and Mrs. Wilson was over. And it was a day to give one a new perspective on the cool things served in those gay little tents, and it's to be hoped the servers shut their eyes to the number of "repeaters" who came back for just one more taste. Some of us had stayed far down in the gardens just before the closing hour, to get a better view of the Potomac as it glistened between the park and the Virginia shores, all aglow in the sunset, and as we passed back through the grounds the receiving line was breaking up—the president at that moment was enjoying a hearty yawn, and Mrs. Wilson drawing off her long gloves with a sigh of relief—just like everyday folks who were glad it was over.

On to the Convention
"I don't know where I'm going but I'm on the way," doesn't apply to Washington just now. Everybody knows where he is going, and it's Chicago—to be in at the finish when the republican presidential nominee is named. If you ask a man about the weather, he says in reply, "When are you going to Chicago?" If you ask the next man you meet, "What do you think about the Mexican situation?" he will say, "I'm going to Chicago Sunday; when are you going?" And that is about as near an answer to any question as you will get. It's nothing but national conversation out here. Everybody seems to have forgotten that Villa is still unheeded—that the war in Europe threatens us with possible complications—that the Vera Cruz trip two years ago brought no salute to our flag—that congress is in session and that the appropriation may amount up to a billion and a half dollars—that the legislators are fairly tumbling over themselves to get public building bills, government plans for nitrate, shipbuilding, armor plate and a thousand and one other measures passed before the session ends. But nobody thinks of that. It is all politics and especially Chicago convention that one hears on every side. "Who are they to nominate?" is the question of the day, and there won't be a baker's dozen senators and congressmen here during the convention, according to the present outlook. The senate will transact no business, the house none that is contested, or that requires a roll call. It is expected that many of the odds and ends on the unanimous calendar will be cleared out of the way, and possibly one or two appropriate bills, including pensions, but nothing else.

Trunk With Child
Did an officer of the U. S. navy pour tea steam down the back of an officer of the Chilean navy? The state department doesn't believe he did, even if someone in Chile does say so, and very likely the state and navy department will soon be framing a formal answer to the question. Moreover, someone intimates that not content with making such an unusual impression on tea cream the navy man from the United States shed a shoe at the statue of one of their naval heroes. Absurd as the charge is, there is likely to be an official inquiry made, in order to set at rest any further talk.

Washing Machine Agents Nailed
"The slickest thing in trousers" has gone on the official records of the state committee on interstate and foreign commerce, as a description of the city salesman who visits rural districts. Anyway, Mrs. Christina Frederick, an expert in household efficiency, said so, and the committee stenographer put it down in black and white. Mrs. Frederick was urging congress to protect country folks from phony washing machine salesmen by passing a law against the man selling patent washing machines—that won't wash—is "the slickest thing in trousers" and can get $10 egg money from a farmer's wife in return for a piece of junk worth 10 cents. And now the records of congress show what a black eye Mrs. Frederick gave those machines which she further described as "worthless contraptions."

LEGISLATURE PROROGUED

Most Conspicuous Achievement of 1916 Legislature Was Passage of Income Tax Bill

Special to The Sun.
STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 3.—With the final fall of the gavel of the preceding officer, shortly before 1 o'clock last evening, there came to an end a legislative session the shortest, with a single exception, held in Massachusetts in twenty-two years. In 1905 the session ended May 26, but in no other year has it ended prior to June.

Notwithstanding its brevity, however, the session has been productive of more legislation than last year, and in the opinion of legislative experts, the product has been of a higher grade.

This year's record stands at 303 general acts, 27 special acts, and 161 resolutions; last year there were 304 general acts, 361 special acts, and 147 resolutions.

Seven general acts and nine special acts were vetoed by the governor, and one of the latter, a bill to divide the city of Boston, and to establish a new town called Milwille, was passed over the veto. In no other instance was a majority vote thrown against the governor.

At its final session the house received from the chief executive a veto of the bill to prohibit the use of trading stamps, and although it had originally passed the bill by a vote of 151 to 57, yesterday's roll-call showed only 57 favoring it, while 113 opposed it after hearing the veto message read.

Perhaps the most conspicuous achievement of the legislature of 1916 was the passage of the bill imposing a tax of six per cent. upon incomes, with certain exemptions. The passage of the bill marks a new departure in Massachusetts' taxation policy, and one which is hoped will prove to be a successful step.

Closely following this in importance is the bill permitting the voters to decide at the state election whether they desire that a convention be held next year for the purpose of amending changes in the state constitution.

Although combated at every turn, Governor McCall finally forced the legislature to pass a bill giving the civil service commission authority to make supplemental tests to determine the fitness of persons employed in classified positions, at the present time an employee once appointed is practically assured a life job, regardless of his application to work or his ability to perform it, under the new bill, the commission may recommend the discharge of any employee who it finds not to be performing his duties in a proper manner.

Another notable achievement, in the interest of laboring men and women, was the passage of a bill reducing to ten days the period during which an injured employee must wait before receiving compensation under the workmen's compensation law. Heretofore the waiting period has been fourteen days.

Provision was made for restoring party enrollment, the act taking effect only if it is accepted by the voters at the state election.

Temperance advocates will find much satisfaction in the passage of a bill, long fought for by them, to prohibit the delivery of liquors in no-license cities and towns by dealers licensed in other places.

Provision was made for re-organizing, on an efficiency basis, several of the state boards and commissions. The state board of insanity was abolished, and in its place there was created a commission on mental diseases, with a paid executive head and an unpaid advisory board of four; the prison commission was also re-organized on much the same lines; the state house building commission was abolished; the economy and efficiency commission also was abolished. Its powers being transferred to a superintendent of administration, and a waterways commission was created to take the place of the present board of harbor and land commissioners and the directors of the port of Boston.

All of these changes were made in accordance with recommendations contained in the inaugural message of Governor McCall, and the session was characterized by the public service commission, the highway commission, the fish and game commission, the industrial accident board, the board of labor and industries and the minimum

BIGGER NAVY

Preparedness Bill is Passed — $269,900,000 for Defense Plans

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The second of the big preparedness measures, a naval appropriation bill larger by many millions than any ever before considered in congress, passed the house late yesterday almost unanimously.

It carries a building program for next year of five battle cruisers, four scout cruisers, 10 destroyers, 50 submarines and 150 aeroplanes, provides for a government armory plant, authorizes an increase of nearly 17,000 enlisted men and appropriates a total of $269,900,000.

As passed the bill is in substantially the same form as framed by the naval committee. Only a few amendments were adopted during a week of debate, and a final effort by republicans to have the measure re-committed with instructions to add two battleships, two scout cruisers and 10 destroyers was beaten 189 to 153.

The fight for an increase in the building program, at least by the addition of two battleships, will be renewed in the senate when the measure is taken up there late this month, and administration leaders believe it will be successful.

Four Vote Against Bill

Only four representatives voted against passage of the bill to $55 favoring it, and as the roll-call progressed the overwhelming majority of "ayes" stirred the democrats to repeated cheering.

The four negative votes were cast by Representatives Browning, New Jersey; and Graham, Pennsylvania, republicans; Randall, California, prohibitionist; and London, New York, socialist.

With passage of the bill, the house completed the major portion of its share in the preparedness program. Of the three bills carrying the important provisions of the program—the army, naval and aviation measures—only the last named remains to be considered. It probably will be taken up in the house after the national conventions, while the senate is debating the naval bill.

Twenty-five democrats voted with the republicans yesterday for the motion to recommit and increase the building program. There were indications last night that the proposal to provide for at least two battleships would find strong support among democrats in the senate. The two dreadnoughts recommended by Sec. Daniels were stricken out of the bill by the house committee and an additional battle cruiser substituted as a compromise with the so-called little navy men.

Although the house voted down most of the recommendations of a minority report submitted by republican members of the committee, increases totaling more than $40,000,000 were added to the bill. Of this, $23,000,000 covers an amendment adopted increasing the number of submarines authorized to 50. The committee had recommended 20.

WAR ON HAY FEVER

Maine Board of Health to Instruct Citizens by Lectures as to Cause of Disease

AUGUSTA, Me., June 3.—The state board of health is co-operating with the American Hay Fever Preventive association in attempting to stop the spread of the disease in this state. The president of the association has sent to Sec. Young a list of the weeds, the pollen from which, as it floats in the air, causes the disease. The list includes common rag weed, Roman wormwood, great rag weed, western rag weed, false wormwood, marsh elder, western elder, careless weed, thorny amaranth, cockle burr, false rag weed and yellow dock.

Sec. Young plans in the health lectures to be given throughout the state to introduce slides showing such of these weeds as are found in Maine. He states that, contrary to general belief, goldenrod is not a frequent cause of hay fever.

SALEM SCHOOL SUIT

BOSTON, June 3.—Daniel J. Long and other taxpayers of Salem filed proceedings in the supreme court yesterday against Mayor Benson, the school committee and the city treasurer seeking to restrain them from carrying into effect the contemplated discontinuance of a primary school on Fowler street and merging it with the Bowditch grammar school. Judge Carroll ordered a hearing for Tuesday.

The primary school building was partly burned in the big fire in 1911, and after the loss of life by fire in the parochial school in Peabody the authorities of Salem voted to discontinue the Fowler street school and transfer its pupils to the Bowditch school, which is being enlarged for the purpose and provided with ample means of safety.

SAVED A BOY'S LIFE

The waterways committee has addressed the following communication to Edgar Ally, commanding his for his heroic rescue of Dennis Foreman from the Concord river:

Lowell, Mass., June 3, 1916.
Dear Sir:—On May 19, 1916, by your brave act in plunging into the rapid current at the mouth of the Concord river, and in bringing to the surface the body of a little child who had disappeared in the deep water at that treacherous point where the bank was eroded by the rapid flow of the year-old Dennis Foreman can ever be grateful to you for your heroic deed in rescuing him from a watery grave on that eventful day.

The waterways committee of Lowell wish to congratulate you upon the courage manifested by taking the chances with your own life in the endeavor to save that of this little child from those swirling waters where the Concord enters the Merrimack river.

We commend you that you were successful in your noble effort to carry this little one safely home to be reared in the open arms of loving parents, and we are sure that this heroic deed performed by you on that day is not only appreciated by relatives of the family but by the public of Lowell.

Very truly yours,

Members of the Lowell Waterways Committee.

AGED WOMAN KILLED

MISS M. E. DULEY, 84, DASHED TO DEATH BY TRAIN—COMPANION, 70, SERIOUSLY INJURED

LOWELL, June 3.—Miss Mary Elizabeth Duley, 84 years old, was last night killed by a train at the station, and was injured by the "Flying Fisherman," or "Bude" train, about 500 feet from the West Gloucester station at 1:10 yesterday afternoon. Miss Duley and her sister, Sarah G. Duley, with Mrs. Hanscombe, a domestic at their residence, 32 Pine street, went to West Gloucester in the morning to prepare their summer cottage at Fernwood for occupancy.

They finished about 4 and took a short cut via the railroad track to reach a street car for home.

Miss Sarah Duley was 190 yards ahead of her sister and Mrs. Hanscombe when the express train came around a curve toward them. Engineer Barney Wallace blew his whistle.

Miss Mary Duley was struck, her body thrown 50 feet away, on the station side. She was killed instantly.

Mrs. Hanscombe stepped aside, but not in time to escape a glancing blow, which broke the right leg and threw her 25 feet. She was taken to the Addison Gilbert hospital.

The Misses Duley are well known. Miss Sarah Duley being for some time a teacher in the high school and also a former member of the school committee. Her sister was for many years employed at Proctor Bros. She had been deaf since a girl. ## ROOSEVELT OR HUGHES?

Favorite sons and dark horses and all that brood of boss politicians are away back out of the limelight and two figures stand out in the glare—Roosevelt and Hughes. This does not make it certain that either will be the republican nominee, but just now nobody else is seen for a second by the various party leaders. The situation is made uncertain by the attitude of both men, Justice Hughes being still the sphinxlike uncertainty hidden in wisdom and whisks and the Colonel making speeches and turning tricks that recall 1912 in a very perturbing way.

Of the support of both men that of Colonel Roosevelt is by far the more vocal, and his supporters say that he will either rule or wreck. A cartoon in the New York World pictures him as a Zeppelin over the republican national convention building and those who do not support him are decidedly afraid that he will make trouble. His penchant for bomb throwing is well established, but the delegates to the convention are not coming behind the Roosevelt standard as swiftly as he would like. He is therefore making whirlwind tours, indulging in activities that are described as "cyclonic" and resorting to all the lures of the days when his shadow was large on the land. Every popular agitation is seized upon for a popular appeal, and eventually he has set out to land the nomination or bust.

On the other hand, Justice Hughes is inspiring a larger degree of confidence daily by his attitude of calm deliberation, though nobody is wondering now whether or not he is a candidate. Roosevelt's implied threat to make party trouble is acting as a boomerang, and from the clashes of partisan strife comes the sober voice of the people asking if it is well to elect a man of Roosevelt's temperament when the world is looking for peace. Even those who most ardently condemn President Wilson for his alleged inactivity turn to Wilson rather than to Roosevelt who is supposed to lean to the other extreme. Meantime the democrats are following a policy of watchful waiting, secretly hoping that Roosevelt will be the choice at Chicago.

TEXTILE SCHOOL GRADUATION

The annual commencement exercises of the Lowell Textile school bring to the attention of the entire country an opportunity that is not yet sufficiently recognized in our own city. Here is a school, admittedly the finest of its kind in the world, with an unequalled equipment, instructors of widespread reputation and a record of past achievement that sets it apart among technical schools. Yet the percentage of students from this leading city of the textile business is not what it ought to be—more especially in the day classes. The brightest of our boys, graduating from the high school, still seek the universities and the crowded professions while here at their door is an institution that opens up to them a great, prosperous and useful future.

The opportunity that opens up before young men who seek the textile business in America at the present time was well outlined by Mr. A. G. Cummock in his address of welcome. It was not a mere voicing of platitudes or generalities but a speech bristling with facts and supported by practical results. He showed that the American mills must look to their own schools for the future if America is to become independent of outside aid and he showed that when they do look to the schools, the Lowell Textile schools shall not be found wanting. Nowhere in the country has more advancement been made in the dyestuff industry than in the Lowell school, and if the necessary co-operation and backing are forthcoming business America shall be immeasurably the gainer.

The remarks of Hon. Calvin Coolidge were calculated to awaken thought, meant as they were to show that America has educational opportunities for all who seek them. It may be that in the future the Textile school will be able to give of its best to those who are handicapped financially or otherwise, but an application of the lesson was seen in the success of the bright young Armenian boy who was one of the eight to receive degrees. His example should be an inspiration to all our boys and should encourage more of them to seek for success in the business which gave Lowell its first start and which still is our crowning glory.

STATE TAX CUT

The reduction of the state tax by 15 per cent from that of last year is something that all cities of the commonwealth will approve, and it marks a change of front in the legislature that ought to become permanent. In the last analysis the responsibility for state taxation rests on the legislature and though there is a desire apparent to make party capital out of the reduction, the praise goes squarely where the blame went for the past few years or more. Governor McCall urged economy in his inaugural but he had a majority in the legislature and was able to carry his wishes through, aided by public opinion which had become strongly resentful of the burdens placed on all cities by legislative extravagance. As matters stand, leaders of all parties who look for public office in this state cannot ignore the real desire for economy that is becoming widespread. The people are realizing that public money is the money of the people collectively and individually, and the people see that it is folly to approve of waste that must sooner or later react on each and all. Governor McCall is entitled to commendation for his strong stand for economy and for impressing same on the republican legislature which has been responsible for the extravagance that made Massachusetts sit up and take notice.

THE LOAN SHARK

In this day of living from hand to mouth it is not hard for the loan shark to get victims. People who need ready money badly rarely look to the future and many jump to the bait of the unjust money lender whose profits are in petty loans for which he charges an exorbitant interest. Even under the law usury is common and revelations of individual cases would awaken a storm of indignation in every community. Unfortunately those who fall into the hands of the merciless money lenders rarely make known their troubles and behind the veil of secrecy a nefarious traffic is kept up. While it may be a good thing to have a well conducted loan business to which the needy may repair, it is true that those who borrow are rarely the kind who ought to be encouraged to do so. The law should keep after the unjust usurer but the establishment of credit unions would seem to be the better way of meeting the problem. Boston recently started a campaign to form such a union with the co-operation of the city and a fund of $50,000 was immediately pledged by wealthy citizens.

JUSTICE BRANDEIS

The confirmation of Louis D. Brandeis in the senate by a vote of 47 to 22 ends a discreditable episode in the history of the United States bench and leaves the noted jurist victor by a safe margin. It is a victory for him and a tribute to his well known aggressiveness in any cause, but it is likewise a triumph for President Wilson whose faith in the Boston lawyer was unshaken throughout. Like all men who have taken a leading part in popular agitations, Mr. Brandeis had made strong and influential enemies but to compensate him he had the backing of friends who were no less earnest and able. His confirmation is another proof—if proof were needed—of American democracy, showing as it does that superlative ability will master all obstacles and march on to ultimate success. With his keen mind and extraordinary energy Justice Brandeis ought to prove a worthy member of the most august judicial body in the world, and his recent experience may be turned to advantage by zeal in the public cause and the exercise of the judicial temperament.

THE BIG FOUR

Nobody in Massachusetts really believes that either Senator Weeks or Governor McCall has a chance of the republican nomination but still the republican press speaks soberly of votes for either or both. This vote will be purely perfunctory and of a complimentary nature and it is highly probable that Mr. Weeks will get it on the first ballot. He seems more desirous of getting it than the more austere Governor McCall and it is a slight reward for energy that spread the name of Weeks from the Atlantic to the Pacific. After the perfunctory matter-of-form vote, who shall be the next choice? The delegates are officially "unpledged" but we were told by Messrs. Gardner, Cushing and Co. that they are opposed to Roosevelt. Thinking republicans whisper that the Massachusetts delegation will vote for Weeks and then turn to Hughes on mass. Time will tell surely but it is hard to wait when the atmosphere is surcharged with such partisan excitement.

WHEN ASKED TO RIDE

If you have any doubts of the prudence or driving ability of the friend who asks you to take a ride in his automobile you might tactfully remind him of a recent decision given to a man in this vicinity. He was injured because of the negligent driving of a friend who had invited him for a spin and when he tested the law he was granted judgment to the tune of $475. There is an ethical side to the question which does not harmonize with its legal aspect, but ethics and the law are sometimes contradictory. A few

STRIKE RIOT IN BOSTON

POLICE AND STRIKERS IN WILD RIOT IN STATE ST.—MANY INJURED—FOUR ARRESTED

BOSTON, June 3.—Patrolmen battled with guns and clubs, a dozen building laborers were beaten and bruised and knives were wielded by strike sympathizers, in State st., yesterday afternoon, during a strike riot. The riot was the most serious of a half dozen which occurred throughout the city. When the rioting ceased at 5 o'clock last night, four members of the "Red Guard" and Laborer's union, whose members are out on strike, were under arrest and the police were searching for several others who had leading parts in the State street fight. Strikers and their sympathizers were beaten and bruised. Two workmen who were dragged from their work in a Columbus avenue building and rolled into a gutter, were at their homes, feasting for their lives. Practically all of the strikers are foreigners.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The members of Admiral Farragut camp, No. 78, Sons of Veterans, met last night in Post 155 hall, S.V. President Fred L. Fletcher occupying the chair. Brother Philip Smith and Comrade Henry Clay were reported as sick and a committee was appointed to call upon them.

A circular letter was read from the division secretary, who reported that the Sons of Veterans had a membership of 7165 at the present time and a great effort is being made to bring it up to 8000.

Garfield Relief Corps

The regular meeting of James A. Garfield Relief corps, No. 33, was held Thursday. The sewing circle met in the afternoon and supper was served at 6 o'clock in charge of Mrs. Martin Fife, assisted by Mrs. Annie Cheney and Miss H. Smith. Mrs. E. Giles Flanders presided at the business meeting that followed the supper and considerable routine business was transacted. The sick committee reported that the sick ones were improving. Arrangements were made for a picnic to be held at Canobie lake in the near future, also for the memorial water service at Tyngsboro on June 11. Brief remarks were made by several for the good of the order. The salute to the flag was given and the meeting closed in the ritual form.

Order of Owls

The regular meeting of Lowell nest, Order of Owls, was held Thursday evening in Elks hall, Middle street. President Richard J. Flynn presided and received a number of applications for membership. The committee on whist parties reported. Arrangements were made for the outing to be held later on in the summer. Several members spoke on the good and welfare of the order.

THE SPELLBINDER

All up for the preparedness demonstration! The Spanish War Veterans produced a happy thought in suggesting to Mayor O'Donnell that the demonstration take place on June 11—Flag day.

While in making the time therefore 8 o'clock at night when the stores, mills and workshops have closed for the day, and the business men can lose no trade, and the working population no wages as a result of the big show, the Mayor stands that the hour of trade is about to set into the game and have the merchants conduct a "dollar sale" day on Flag day, for the purpose of attracting out-of-town shoppers to Lowell on that occasion, and hence everything points to a big day and a bigger night. Wednesday, June 8, the Mayor is expected to participate in the parade. It will be well for all who intend to take part to make known their intention of so doing at the parade headquarters at city hall about noon, and avoid a job of confusion. The route of parade planned will be a comparatively short one so that the marchers will be able to cover it in good season. It is not to be expected that Lowell will have anywhere near as formidable a parade as the one that took place in Worcester, but it will be one of the most impressive ever held in this city and there have been some good ones in the past.

Where the Hay State Losses

One by one the jitneys are increasing and soon they'll be running on all the wheels of a driver. A jitney driver made his appearance in Centralville, running from the square to Boynton street, and he found business rushing, while the short distance made it possible for him to pick up quite a number of nickels. Since the Chestnut street fare job caused a change in the running time of the Centralville cars, the people who reside beyond Twelfth street have been complaining bitterly over the poor car service accorded them. The enterprising jitney driver took his cue from their complaints and decided to make a change in the route of the residents of the Highlands are in the market for a jitney service, and we may soon find a line of jits running to and from that section of the city.

Additional Police and Firemen

Supt. Putnam has stated that he needs additional permanent firemen to man the newly acquired motor trucks, while one frequently reads of requests made upon Mayor O'Donnell for additional police service. Perhaps both are badly needed, but each additional policeman appointed means an additional expense to the city of $192 per year, and each additional fireman means a similar increase in expense except when the new appointee is taken from among the callmen, in which case the callman's salary is eliminated. Neither department has a sufficient appropriation to permit the appointment of new men, and the city is financially needed, but it is probable that provisions will be made next year to increase both forces. Some of the members of the fire department have been in the service a great number of years, and as they advance in age to give the efficient grade of a fireman, they could give, though a few can work as actively as many of the younger fellows. The growth of the city necessitates the appointment of more policemen in the very near future. Already there are a few open vacancies, while some of the regular routes require a tremendous amount of territory for one man to cover properly. The immediate vicinity of the depot at night should have the services of one patrolman exclusively, on account of the activity in that section.

Purchased at Last

The three fire trucks, for the purchase of which last year's government appropriation $16,000 in March, became the property of the city of Lowell yesterday, and one on that thought asks the question: "If it takes 14 months to purchase three fire trucks, how long will it take to build a high school, or a bridge, or even to complete Memorial building?" In the case of the Memorial building the repair work was started. But on second thought one wonders that there has been a new disposition, and that the new government is showing signs of considerable life in solving promptly the several problems left in chaotic state for its consideration by its predecessors. The permit of the harbor and land commissioners for the construction of Puckett bridge was received by phone yesterday and in the mail today, and hence all that remains preparatory to the beginning of the actual work on the bridge is the signing of the contract, which will be done in a few days, having been looked over by Mr. Worcester, consulting engineer for the city, and certain minor changes ordered by him are at present being made.

Doubler in Step

A visitor at city hall who had attended this week's drill of the Business Men's battalion, when asked what he thought of the battalion as a marching body, soberly remarked: "Juh, Frank E. Dunbar was the only man in step."

Pop! Goes the Weasel

Someone is always taking the joy out of life. Just as all of the newspapers in the country are commenting upon Teddy Roosevelt's ability as a word-finder, and some of his local supporters are comparing him with the lamented Greenhalke in this respect, along comes the Boston Transcript with the following:

"Showing how Theodore Roosevelt is constantly on the quiver for telling expressions and catch phrases, Mr. C. H. Payne of that city writes the New York Herald agent the 'weasel words.'"

If you will turn to the Century Magazine for June, 1909, you will find a story by Stewart Chaplin called "A Stained Glass Political Platform," in which these words originate. The following conversation about a platform occurs in the story:

"And like most platforms," continued St. John, "it contains plenty of what I call weasel words."

"And what may weasel words be?"

"Why, weasel words are words that suck all the life out of the words next to them, just as a weasel sucks an egg and leaves the shell. If you left the egg afterwards it's as light as a feather and not very filling when you're hungry and not a basketful of them would make quite a show and would hamper the unwary."

"I know them well," said George, "and mightily useful they are, too. A though the old gentleman couldn't write much of a platform, he's an expert at weaseling. I've seen him take his pen and go through a proposed plank or resolution and weasel every flat-footed word in it. Then the weasel word places one man and the word that's been weaselled pleases another."

country later on. It contains all of the devices which the government has exhibited, from time to time, at various fairs and expositions. The local public will be kept fully informed of the movements of this train, and when it is expected to appear locally.

Chief Yeoman also states that the dates for enrollment have been extended to July 15, and that the next examination for enrollment will be held at the local station next Wednesday at or about 10 o'clock a.m.

Examination for appointments as acting pay clerks, machinists, heat-swains, carpenters and gunners will be held on Oct. 2, 1916, and all enlisted men are entitled to take these examinations.

THE MISFIT SEMAPHORE

OFFICER SHERIDAN FINDS IT CONFUSING AT CORNER OF CENTRAL AND MERRIMACK STREETS

The semaphore removed from Merrimack square because it was an obstruction, is not much better at the corner of Central and Merrimack streets. When it presents the sign "Go" to some drivers it presents also the sign "Stop" to others who have an equal right to "Go" as their path is wholly unobstructed. While Officer Sheridan made an honest effort to use it he had drivers swearing not at him but at the absurdity of the new arrangement. Yet a Brooklyn officer who may have an interest in the sale of this semaphore came here and made the statement that "it works perfectly." That is true in the sense that the lever turns the signs just as the officer manipulates them. The mechanism is all right, but as a means of aiding the traffic officer, the thing is all wrong. It is an obstruction to public travel, a source of confusion and a piece of useless lumber that like some other might innovation will in time be sent to the junk heap. Perhaps there are points at which it can be used to advantage but they have not been found. Where traffic is directed at right angles as railroad crossings cross intersecting tracks, this semaphore is all right; but at street crossings where drivers do not move in straight lines and turn corners in eight different directions this semaphore is a misfit and should be discarded. It belongs in the railroad yard to be operated by a man who has but one arm and one eye and while the semaphore gives the signals "stop" and "go."

AT CANOBIE LAKE

Tomorrow the monster concert which was to have opened Canobie Lake Park on last Sunday will take place in the theatre from 3 to 5 p.m. The program, which is as follows, varies from the popular songs of the day to grand opera and promises to be one of rare merit and high quality: March—"The Aggressor".....Bagley American Dance.....Bendix Waltz—"Lustigant".....Walden Overture—"William Tell".....Rossini Selection—"The Wizard of the Nile".....Herbert Songs of the Nation.....Sullivan "The Lost Chord".....Lemp The melody performed by the cornets, trumpets and trombones. Music from "Sari".....Halman Melody of Popular Songs, Arr. by Lake March—"Washington Post".....Sousa

CIVILIAN WARSHIP CRUISE

Five Lowell men have already enrolled themselves as willing to participate in the civilian cruise of warships during the coming summer. They are grouped in the Boston district which up to date received no enrollments. H. C. Tucker, chief yeoman, in charge of the local naval station, has received notification from Franklin K. Kane, secretary of the Interior, of the itinerary of the "Chief" trip, which will be the first into various parts of the country to demonstrate the methods employed by the national government to prevent accidents. This train, an all steel affair, thoroughly equipped, was designed, so to speak, from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and it will, undoubtedly, be sent to this section of the

BELLEVUES HELD DANCE

ENJOYABLE PARTY AT TALBOT HALL, NORTH BILLERICA, LAST EVENING

The Bellevue club held its third annual summer dancing party at the Thomas Talbot Memorial hall, North Billerica, last evening and the affair, like all others conducted under the auspices of this popular organization, was a success in every particular.

The wide popularity of the club was attested by the large crowd that attended last evening's party, for long before the announced time to start the hall was filled. Later in the evening the attendance was such as to tax the capacity of the building. Shortly after 8 o'clock, Miner's orchestra opened the program with a selection of popular numbers, which were greatly enjoyed by all. The first waltz was then started, and dancing was continued until 10:30, when a short intermission was held, during which refreshments were served. Dancing was then resumed and continued until midnight, when all pronounced the affair one of the most enjoyable of the season.

The officers in charge of the party were: General manager, Alex Johnston; assistant general manager, Russell McDonald; door director, George Tighe; assistant door director, Paul Chandler; chief aid, Bert Greenwood; treasurer, John Ward; reception committee, G. Greenlay, chairman; Frank Allen, Frank Parrell, Fred Couture, John Lawson and Ben Nevins.

PLANS FOR IRISH RELIEF

PUBLIC MEETING SUNDAY EVENING TO PLAN FOR TAG DAY NEXT SATURDAY

The executive committee in charge of the Irish tag day in Lowell, June 10, met last evening in the reception room at Association hall to make plans for the event. Twenty members of the committee were present and many helpful suggestions were made relative to the conduct of tag day. Letters of approval were read from Cardinals Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell to the national committee, also a cable from Archbishop Walsh, Dublin, who has consented to act with two American representatives of the Friends of Irish Freedom in the work of distribution. June 10 has been designated "Irish Relief Day," and efforts will be made to raise a fund throughout the city to make plans for the event. The committee has made plans for a public meeting in Hibernian hall Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. in order to organize for tag day. Young ladies especially have been asked to attend in order that collectors for the selling of tags may be secured. There will be a meeting of the executive committee of 25 immediately after the meeting Sunday evening.

1000 PUPILS ENROLLED

It is estimated that there will be 1000 pupils enrolled at the local high school next fall. Last year the number was 1529 and it was found difficult to care for such a large number. Principal Irish, however, does not look for much of an increase over last year because of the fact that the number of employment are so great at this time.

To all who call at the I will give Consultations, Diagnosis of Disease, and Examinations, Absolutely Free of Charge.

Never before has such an opportunity been given the sick of this vicinity, and if you are suffering, you should not fail to take advantage of it. Those wishing to see him should remember the Days, Dates and Office Hours of his visits and call early to avoid the crowded last hours.

For nearly 15 years I have been studying the Chemistry of food and have put these two sciences together and formulated the science of Applied Food Chemistry. By the application of this knowledge I cure all forms of stomach and intestinal diseases, and all other disorders that result from wrong eating and drinking. This method cannot fail because it conforms to the laws of Nature.

It is estimated that ninety-two per cent of all diseases are caused by errors in eating. These errors are made by wrong selections, wrong combinations, and wrong proportions of food. I teach you how to correct these, how to select, how to combine and how to proportion your food according to your age and your occupation. This cures by removing causes. It gives Nature a chance. This is the true science of human nutrition, and it is governed by laws as inflexible as the laws of gravitation. If you obey them you cannot be sick. If you do not obey them you cannot be well.

You have no idea what your body is capable of, until you have it perfectly nourished. You have no idea what your mind is capable of, until it lives in a perfectly nourished body.

Dr. NAUGHTON will positively be at the NEW AMERICAN HOTEL, MONDAY, JUNE 5th, 1916, from 10:00 o'clock in the morning until 7:00 o'clock in the evening to consult with and examine all cases personally.

You have no idea of the joy of living until every bone, tissue, muscle and organ of the body is brought up to 100% efficiency, which my system does.

If you are sick or have any kind of stomach or intestinal trouble it will require a short term of curative feeding—then I balance the diet so as to give to the body all the elements of nourishment it requires according to your age and your occupation.

If medicine is needed in any case I prescribe only such remedies that do not conflict with the proper diet. I get results and this ends all argument.

BUILDERS VERY BUSY

Work on Factory Buildings Being Pushed—Permits for New Dwellings and Alterations

The local builders are still busy and, according to indications, the craftsmen of the various lines will have all they can do during the summer months. Plans are now under way for the erection of a couple of theatres in this city, while some land owners are contemplating the erection of large dwelling houses.

Work on demolishing of the buildings on the site seized some time ago by the council for the proposed Dummer street extension may be started within a few days. Commissioner Morse is getting things in shape to open the new thoroughfare and he means to hurry along with the job.

Ella M. Fraser is having a two and one-half story dwelling erected to 123 Sanders street. The house will be 35 feet, 10 inches by 22 feet, 10 inches and will cost about $3000.

A cottage owned by David Ziskind and located at 157-159 Howard street will soon be converted into a four-room house. The present building will be moved forward on the lot and an addition of 40 feet by 30 feet will be constructed. The cost of the change will be about $2500.

Extensive alterations are being made to the property of C. Harry Clapp at 424 Middlesex street. The floor will be lowered and two additions will be erected in the rear, one 57 by 40 feet and the other 15 feet by 20 feet. The first addition will be used as a carriage shed, while the other will serve to enlarge the store now on the premises. The estimated cost of the work is $1500.

Philippe M. Gosselin is adding two extra rooms to his building at 12-15 Second avenue. The addition will be two stories in height and 24 by 30 feet. The cost of the work will be about $1400.

A five-room bungalow with bath is being erected for Thomas McOsker at 105 Sayers street. The house will be 31 by 21 feet and will cost about $1200.

Ellis Boutiller is having a piazza constructed at his home, 30 Wentworth avenue, at a cost of $225.

A concrete block garage is being built by William Staples in the rear of 1133 Lawrence street. The building will be 14 by 18 feet and will cost about $180.

Charles J. Shaw is building an ell which will serve as a kitchen at his home, 34 O'Connell street. The addition will be one story high and will cost $150.

Edmond Traversy has started work on the erection of a storage shed, 35 by 19 feet, on his land, 5 Dalton street, at a cost of $100.

Hercule A. Toupin has made plans for important changes to his building, 103 Cheever street. The store front will be changed and considerable interior alterations will be made.

A sleeping porch, 23 by 5 1/2 feet, is being built to the house of W. H. Staples at 1123 Lawrence street.

Carpenters are at work erecting a bay window on the second story of the property owned by John and Bridget Devine at 32 Hastings street.

A storage shed, 24 by 26 feet and 8 inches, is being built on the land of G. E. and E. H. Bennett in Payne street.

Carrie Lindsay is having a garage built on her land in the rear of 12 Bagley avenue.

A sleeping porch, 8 by 15 feet, is being constructed at the home of John B. Johnson, 668 Chelmsford street.

Charles F. Keyes, who recently purchased the Calderwood property at 434 High street, has started improving the building. He is now having an addition 6 by 10 feet built to the front piazza and one 4 by 10 feet to the rear piazza. Mr. Keyes will reside there.

Work on the several mill structures in progress is being pushed ahead. The buildings on Middlesex street are being torn down.

BERLIN DENIES STREET KITCHEN RIOTS HAD SERIOUS MEANING

Reports from Europe tell of disturbances in Berlin and other German cities around the newly instituted street kitchens. According to the accounts from the allied countries there were serious riots. German stories, however, assert that the street kitchens were merely experimental, that the people were not accustomed to them and naturally thought about them in some confusion. Illustration shows crowd around street kitchen in German city. The sign reads: "Municipal Kitchen Wagon. Warm Dinner, 3 Pfennigs a Portion."

8000 LOST IN NAVAL BATTLE

VICE-ADMIRAL SCHEER WAS IN COMMAND OF GERMAN FLEET IN BATTLE

AMSTERDAM, via London, June 3.—Admiral Scheer, commander of the German battle fleet, was in personal command of the German forces in the battle of Jutland while the scout division was under the direction of Vice-Admiral Hipper. The German forces consisted of the German high seas fleet with dreadnoughts, older ships of the line, battle cruisers, all the light sea forces at present in the North sea, torpedo destroyers and submarine flotillas.

Admiral Hipper came into contact with the enemy about 5 o'clock in the afternoon when he engaged a squadron of British battle cruisers and light cruisers. Subsequently the whole fleets on both sides engaged and the fighting lasted until 9 in the evening. Later on in the night there were engagements between torpedo destroyers and cruisers. The leading German vessels alone sank six modern destroyers.

All reports from the German sea forces which participated in the battle agree on the bravery shown by the German fleet. The crews of the German torpedo boats which were sunk have not been heard from but the majority of the men on the other vessels which were lost were rescued despite the unfavorable weather. Naval airships gave valuable aid in unloading before and after the battle.

Vice-Admiral Scheer was appointed commander of the German battle fleet in February of this year, succeeding Admiral von Pohl who retired on account of his health. Admiral Scheer was for a long time director of the general marine department at the admiralty and also served as chief of staff on the high seas fleet and as commander of a battle squadron.

Admiral Hipper commanded the German squadron which fought the British squadron under Admiral Sir David Beatty off Heligoland in January, 1915. It was in this battle that the German cruiser Blücher was sunk.

EIGHT OF CREW OF THE GERMAN CRUISER FRAUENLOB SAVED

THE HOOK, Holland, via London, June 3.—The tugboat Tarnes has arrived with eight men of the crew of the German cruiser Frauenlob, which was sunk in the naval battle off Jutland. They say that the warship went to the bottom ten minutes after she was struck. Nothing is known of the fate of the remainder of the crew of 350.

BRITISH PUBLIC TAKES SOME COMFORT IN TODAY'S RE- PORTS OF BATTLE

LONDON, June 3.—The British public who retired last night east down by the first news of the North sea battle as contained in the earlier British and German reports, took some comfort from the later British reports which were found in the morning papers. This report was the command of the German losses except in destroyers which were reduced from 11 to 8, shows that the German losses were much greater than was at first reported.

According to this latest account of the great naval engagement, the German losses include two battleships, one battle cruiser, one light cruiser and six destroyers sunk, two battle cruisers damaged and three battleships hit. Naval writers also point out that the German fleet appeared on the scene so that there is no question about the supremacy of sea power remaining in British hands. The loss of British ships is of course admittedly serious while the loss in officers and men has cast a gloom over the whole country.

OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF CREW OF GERMAN CRUISER EL- RING LANDED

YMUDEN, Holland, via London, June 3.—Three officers, three petty officers and 12 sailors of the crew of the German cruiser Elring, which was lost in the Jutland battle, have been landed here. One officer said that the Elring sank after she was rammed by another German vessel which rescued the remainder of her crew. Another maintained that the Elring was blown up by the heavy firing of her own guns. One of the Elring's boats containing some of the crew and some British officers who were picked up by the trawler Bertha, are being brought here.

The loss of the Elring is not mentioned in either the British or German official accounts of the battle, but the British admiral's statement says that a "light German cruiser" was sunk. The Elring does not appear in available naval lists.

REAR ADMIRAL HOOD LOST HIS LIFE WHEN INVINCIBLE WENT DOWN

LONDON, June 3.—Rear Admiral Horace Hood probably lost his life when the battle cruiser Invincible was sunk in the Jutland battle, according to the Times. Admiral Hood was flying his flag on the Invincible as second in command of the battle cruiser squadron.

Admiral Hood, Horace Lambert Alexander Hood was 46 years of age and was naval secretary to the first lord of the admiralty at the outbreak of the war. He was also naval aide-de-camp to the king and in 1910, then a captain was naval attaché to the navy in Washington. Admiral Hood served also in the Sudan and in Somalia, where he was mentioned in despatches twice and received the distinguished service order.

REPORT OF LOSS OF THE MARLBOROUGH AND WARSPITE DENIED

LONDON, June 3, 11:10 a. m.—Capt. William Hall, chief of the intelligence division of the admiralty, authorizes the Associated Press to say: "The German report of the loss of the Marlborough and Warspite is absolutely untrue. Both of these dreadnoughts are in the harbor. The German report that the entire British battle fleet was engaged is equally untrue. A portion of the British fleet much inferior to the battle fleet of the Germans engaged that fleet and drove it back into its harbor. The British control the North sea."

BLOW TO BRITISH NAVAL PRE- STIGE, SAY WASHINGTON EXPERTS

WASHINGTON, June 3.—News of the naval battle in the North sea aroused the keenest interest in naval circles here. When the first unofficial reports reached the United States, routine of officers from the various bureaus met in consultation and eagerly sought additional facts.

The consensus of opinion, based on latest reports, was that the British naval prestige had been dealt a severe blow. The fact that the British battle fleet was apparently not engaged explains, naval officers say, why the British battle cruisers tared so badly in the fight.

It is believed here that the German squadron had the support of at least a portion of the German battleship fleet. Secretary Daniels said last night that the result of this engagement might change the program of the United States navy for the building of capital ships. He said that neither Commander Sigsbee, naval attaché at the London embassy, nor Commander Gherard, naval attaché at the Berlin embassy, had yet reported on the battle. Detailed reports are, however, expected later, and these will be closely studied by the navy department.

Up to a late hour last night naval officers here were still in the dark as to the composition of the opposing fleets, and the manner in which the engagement was precipitated. Unofficial reports that the British sank a German battleship is the basis for the belief that the German high seas fleet was in a position to come to the support of the German cruiser squadron, and thereby turn the tide of battle in Germany's favor. In the light of present information the engagement is regarded here as a decisive German naval victory.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

One can't get away from the fact that the Triangle pictures, which are being shown at the B. F. Keith theatre the last three days of the present week are wholly superior. Take, for instance "Brown Eyes and Bullets," the Fine Arts feature, with Bessie Barriscale and William Desmond in the leading parts. It holds all of the favor of standard romances, and in addition is graphically pictured. The story holds all the elements of straight appeal to those who love lovers and who never tire of seeing them overcome obstacles. That's the sort of a story, it tells, and if it does not well at the close of the fifth act, it isn't because there haven't been heart aches and duels and battles and such like things. Miss Barriscale is one of the prettiest of film stars and her work is wholly likeable. In "The Submarine Pirate," with Syd Chaplin in the big part, there is shown the interior of a big submarine in action, and finally it descends to the bottom of the sea and there is a fine action. This is primarily a comedy, although there are thrilling incidents to it. The toppling of the big steamer, the battle between the submarine and Italian destroyers, and the scene of pandemonium aboard the steamer as the travelers hustle to the lifeboats, are worthy of the keenest attention. The Mutt and Jeff cartoon, made by Bud Fisher, is as full of funny things as a nut is of meat, and then, in addition, there are a dozen fine motion views of the recent big preparedness parade in New York. Tomorrow afternoon and evening the brilliant four-part photo play, "Too Late," will be the leading picture, and in addition to it six shorter films will be presented. It tells of the rescue of a beautiful woman by a prince, who does not reveal his station in life. Beginning Monday and continuing the first three days of the week, Bill Burke in the second instalment of "Gloria's Romance," "Jordan is a Hard Road," and "Fatty and the Broadway Stars."

Kitty Gordon, with the handsome gowns ever designed, will appear at the performances today at the Merrimack Square theatre to delight those who take advantage of this last opportunity to see her in the leading role.

of this intensely dramatic play. The beautiful little English actress, Peggy Hyland, makes her screen debut in "Salts and Sinners," a drama of deep feeling and pathos. Charlie Chaplin will entertain today, and the program will conclude with the remaining features for the last two days of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew will appear in the leading parts of the five-act feature, "Playing Dead," at the Merrimack Square theatre Sunday concert tomorrow afternoon and evening. Other attractions include "The Highway," "The Tugboat," "The Highway," etc., will also be shown at the continuous Sunday concert tomorrow afternoon and evening.

OWL THEATRE

Helen Ware, one of the greatest dramatic stars in the motion picture world, will again be seen at the Owl theatre this afternoon and evening in the five-part Equitable feature film, "The Price." ## FOR COLLEGE EXTENSION AT ST. MICHAEL'S MISSION

Mr. Robt. H. Spahr of State Board Outlines Plan for Courses in This City

Under the auspices of the Lowell Teachers' organization Mr. Robert H. Spahr of the University Extension department of the state board of education came to Lowell yesterday afternoon and spoke on the new state educational movement before an interested audience. Mr. Spahr is in charge of the work of class organization and being familiar with the detailed working of the system gave a clear account of the great work and outlined its possibilities so that all present were most enthusiastic at the close.

Supt. Hugh J. Molloy presided and made a brief address of welcome during which he asked that the local teachers serve as missionaries to spread the news of university extension among the public.

Mr. Spahr said in opening that the term "university extension" is rather vague as it embraces a number of subjects which are not university subjects. At present the state board has listed 10 subjects which may be taken by correspondence, though all cannot be taken by classes. The work of organization began in January and the correspondence courses were the first to be attended to. Already the movement has had far greater success than anticipated. After presenting statistics of growth, etc., the committee was granted the full appropriation asked for by the legislature, though no other committee has had similar success at this session. University extension under state auspices has recently been referred to in the legislature as a "rusty infant." Already there are 1200 enrollments in the correspondence course which is patterned after the system of the University of Chicago.

After the correspondence courses, said Mr. Spahr, the next work attended to was the "class division." Organized for 10 weeks or so, it already has 300 students. There are five classes now running and some have closed the half session. Classes are at Gloucester, Leominster, Rockland, Holyoke, Springfield and Boston. The board will be ready to start out on a much larger field early in the fall, and there are so many applications for classes that he urged Lowell to organize early if it wants classes. First come will be first served, and the board will scarcely be able to meet all demands for instructors, etc.

Classes are formed only in subjects that are not taught in the local schools as those in charge wish to avoid any semblance of rivalry or competition. The system is not in conflict with that of the public schools, but is supplementary to it. The cost is the same by class or by correspondence. There is no charge for instructors, but there is a small registration fee and the cost of books and incidentals. In no course is the charge larger than $5 and in most courses it is about $3, books included. The work costs the state a great deal, the 10 lessons in Gloucester, for instance, having cost $500. The best teacher obtainable is engaged, the various college faculties being drawn from liberally.

Mr. Spahr mentioned five or six subjects which are found especially interesting and in which there is a strong demand for classes. These include English composition A, and English composition B, which is a course in short story writing; economics; sociology; United States history and commercial Spanish, etc.

To have a class, at least 20 persons must enroll for a certain subject. The class will meet just as often as it wants to, but the speaker thought that once a week would prove sufficient. In Holyoke they were given so much work that they decided to have a class once in two weeks.

Another method is the "group" system in which is half way between the correspondence courses and the class instruction. If at least 10 who enroll in a subject by correspondence get together as a class, they may meet once a week and work up their lessons. A secretary or chairman sends these lessons to the state house and an instructor will be sent to every fourth meeting. This gives the personal touch that is lost in correspondence courses. Any subject may be taken by the study group.

"If you start classes," said Mr. Spahr, "we will do our best for you. We employ the best teachers from the colleges and universities of the state, and we will hold our students to high standards. We do not want those who look for a picnic or amusement; we want those who will do real work. The whole idea is to be of benefit to those who need it, to form a college of the people. How many there are in Lowell who completed their education on graduating from high school. It is for you to reach such and to show them the value of this great opportunity. We will give certificates in the various branches, both class and correspondence, and in the extension of the work we hope that our recognition will mean a great deal in the higher institutions of learning. Next winter I hope we'll get a working college in Lowell, and you can do great good by spreading knowledge of our aims and achievements."

The teachers' organization will form a committee to start the work of forming classes and enrolling correspondence students.

Another Powerful Sermon by Dominican Preacher—Terrible Effect of Sins of the Tongue

At the mission for women at St. Michael's church last evening another powerful sermon was delivered by Rev. Fr. Healey, O.P., and was listened to by a congregation that filled every part of the edifice. The reverend preacher spoke as follows on "Sins of the Tongue."

There is hardly anything in the world so powerful for good or evil as conversation. The value of a single word can hardly be exaggerated. One word brought misery into the world in the beginning and often in the dull silence of the human heart, like a lightning flash, a single word brings endless desolation. Earth can forge no keener weapon than the cruel word that, through years of remembrance, echoes in the broken heart dealing pain and certain death.

We are at peace with the world. Our spirits are calm as the calmest lake and clear as the heavens that gaze upon it. Suddenly, with one word, a storm sweeps across our souls. Its deepest depths are stirred, never more to slumber. We are confident of our words, and with one word, life loses its charm. In our listening heart that word nestles and only with that word's last throbbing can it fade away.

Friendships that have linked souls together as with chains of steel have been broken by the baneful influence of a spoken word. To souls pure as untarnished snow, one word has opened doors of immortality that can never be closed.

On the other hand, what wonders have been wrought through the agency of words. One word in the mouth of the Creator and earth itself sprang into being; one word of consent from Mary's lips and the Son of God became man and our redemption was assured. With one word Christ calmed the winds and the waves, by the potent energy of His words He turned bread and wine into His body and blood, and by the repetition of these same words the priest today is enabled to offer Christ on the altar, a bleeding victim for our sins.

Now, my dear friends, to what use are your words put? Is your conversation, your use of words what God would have it? Do your words work for the uplift or the downfall of those about you? Do you use your tongue for the honor and glory of God? Do you use the peace of God from their hearts. Many would turn their backs on sin if some one interested would speak to them a kind word. Suppose you know a girl lost to every sense of decency. May not a kind word change the whole world for her? It is something she never hears perhaps, and one word from a friend may help turn her from her evil ways. Another has started on the road to evil. People talk about her, scorn her and avoid her. She looks for God's love and finds nothing. She returns to her evil ways unless some kind soul speaks to her a word of sympathy, encouragement or advice. It makes her feel there is still kindness in the world and she turns her back on sin and becomes again a child of God.

Others feel life a disappointment. They have given themselves to friendships which they have found unsatisfactory, vain and false. Some one tells them to turn their disappointment to grace, their failure to success. They gladly take their crosses and glories in their pain, because of a word, they reach Calvary's height from which they behold the not far distant Olivet.

The abuse of our words is the breaking of God's commandment. The second, fifth, sixth and eighth commandments may be broken by the improper use of words.

Take the second commandment for instance. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain." You love your own name. You know your own shortcomings. You know you would not want your name to stand for any one of them. You want it to stand for every good quality you possess. No woman has sunk so low that she places no value on her name. Now God prizes His name. In the beginning He did not even reveal it to man. In the Old Law men revered the name "God." In the New Law God has become more familiar to us in the use of His name. Strange, is it not that the more God manifests His love, the more His name is reviled. No man will challenge the power of God, yet they dare revile His name. The name "God" stands for love, pardon, protection, eternal fatherhood. What does it mean on the lips of the brazen orator who couples with an obscene story the name of our Creator?

The mother who wishes her children to be good makes rules for them. The children in course of time break some of these rules. What does the mother do? She flies into a passion. The name of God is hurled at her little ones. Sometimes it is heard for the first time by the child from a mother in a horrible passion. Here is a girl we think naturally good. But let something happen and like an explosion, the name of God comes from her lips. And these same people will kneel down and say, "Hallowed be Thy Name." What mockery! That name that should stand for love, kindness, for fatherhood, for heaven and for holiness, how low they sink who abuse the name of God!

When her angelic visitor announced to Mary that she should bring forth a Son and that He should be called Jesus, that name brought before her vision the three and thirty years of her virgin motherhood. She felt the coldness of Bethlehem, she beheld the peace of Nazareth, the agony of Gethsemane, the tragedy of Calvary. The name Jesus meant all these to her. How low she sank when she uttered the name of God in a passion. The new born babe is cleansed from sin through the power of that name. In His name our souls are bathed in the blood waters of His mercy. When we are dying and our hearts are torn by our sins, what will give us hope and comfort but the name of Jesus? When the priest of God stands over us, bids our souls take up their flight to eternity he will command them to depart from this world in the name of God who created them, in the name of Jesus Christ who redeemed them. When the gates of heaven were closed to us they were re-opened in the name of Jesus and in heaven or on earth there is no other name by which we may be saved.

What are we to do, then, with our words? Let us be careful of the women who make this adorable name a target for abuse? Women there are who use the name of God as a whip, a lash and then kneel down and pray, "Hallowed be Thy name." Catholic women, do all in your power to prevent irreverence in this regard. Love and praise the name of God your Creator and Redeemer.

The fifth commandment says: "Thou shalt not kill." Can a word kill? Yes, words can kill. Many a woman who is a den of uncleanness where words that kill are uttered, the hearts of the once pure minded girl. There are devils of women as well as men who entice girls to places in themselves attractive, but in which many a girl has learned her first lesson in wrong doing. Isn't the girl or woman who utters such words, killing an immortal soul? Because they themselves have plunged into iniquity instead of praying that others may be spared, they point for the innocent one the glories and charms of the world and lead her to the use of her tongue leads another to sin is killing a soul by her words.

Marriage to all women should mean motherhood if it is God's will. If it is aught else, it is a crime and a desecration of the sacrament of matrimony. There are those wicked enough to taunt the woman who does God's will. There are those who will teach her to raise a barrier to get into the lowest hell will descend the souls of the women who prevent innocent souls from knowing the name of Jesus. On Judgment day, when God asks: "Where are my children?" the words of these diabolical women will come back to them to torment their souls through all eternity.

Are you careful that your language at home does not provoke to sin? Outside the home many have nothing but words of kindness and gentleness, but at home, the actions of a brother or sister are met with resentment or ill-will to raise a barrier to get into the lowest hell will descend the souls of the women who prevent innocent souls from knowing the name of Jesus. On Judgment day, when God asks: "Where are my children?" the words of these diabolical women will come back to them to torment their souls through all eternity.

We all have faults, but we hope that over them our neighbors will throw the mantle of charity. Let us follow the example of our Lord. How devilish it is for any one to pick out flaws in the character of one who perhaps is doing her utmost to lead a good life.

You say perhaps you never mention the faults of another except in your own family circle. You would not go to the store and buy diseased meat for your family! Why feed the minds of your family with the garbage of your neighbors' faults?

There are mothers mean enough to reveal to their children the faults of their father. The traitor in the home is the worst of all traitors. What kind of mothers are they who rejoice in publishing or two do not strive to conceal the faults or imperfections of their husbands and the fathers of their children?

Is there one here who has not felt the sting of a decided fault? Consider for a moment the action of our Lord toward the women taken for sin. Those gathered around her point her out as an object of scorn and contempt. Our Lord, seeing her sorrow and confusion, and knowing the hearts of her accusers, stooped to the earth for a moment. Making a few signs in the sand, He had the men about Him read the story of their own wickedness. In shame they all walked away. Then turning to the woman, He said: "Is there none here to accuse you?"

In every land there are women who usurp the power of Christ. They nag and persecute, and rejoice when their vile story or word is a success. Down south there is a bird that gorges itself on decaying flesh. We have buzzards elsewhere than in the south—human buzzards whose ears are open to every scandal—scavengers who refuse nothing that is vile. Be vigilant, my dear women, broad enough to see good in everyone. Be ever ready to use your words to encourage, to sympathize, to help souls turn their backs on sin. See if there is a neighbor, speak no evil of him. Remember that "If any man fall not in his words, the same is a perfect man."

Closing Services
On Sunday the women's mission will close. The closing service will be at two for married women, at four o'clock for the unmarried. A week's mission for men will open in the evening.

PREPAREDNESS PARADE

day in inaugurating a system for the control of details.

The parade headquarters are in the mayor's reception room and Miss Lilie H. Cutler is acting as secretary. Several letters were received at headquarters today from persons desirous of assisting in the preparation and participating in the parade.

Up for the big parade," said a caller at the mayor's office this morning. "I was in that big preparedness parade in Boston," he continued, "and I tell you it was a great thing. It did something more than make the enormous crowds of spectators cheer. It made the men think of their duties in the depths. It brought moisture to cheeks. It brought tears. It brought lumps into the throat, but, best of all, it brought out the vital, inherent patriotism that is the heritage of every American. Go to it, Mr. Mayor."

The mayor allowed that if there are many men in Lowell with the spirit and patriotism of his caller that there will be no doubt as to the success of Lowell's preparedness parade.

Mr. Arthur Brown of the Ricker-James company in Lowell has made the suggestion that if all the ex-army, ex-navy and ex-militia men in Lowell, as he says he knows there's a lot of them here, will meet him at city hall Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock he will form a company for the parade.

It is expected that the Bay State Street Railway will have men in line and in uniform. It will probably be a pretty busy time for the street railway, but there will be a number of conductors and motormen who will have interest enough in the parade to participate in it. It is expected, too, that the business men's battalion will take part. The night of June 14 will be their regular drill night, but they can take their drill in the parade instead of at headquarters.

They Want to Parade
The mayor received communications from two insurance companies today asking that they be assigned to places in line. The following are copies of the communications:

Hancock Company
Lowell, Mass., June 2, 1916.
Hon. James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor, City of Lowell,
Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir:
It has come to my attention that the city of Lowell has a committee which has charge of the celebration of Flag Day, June 14th, the feature of which in the evening is to be a preparedness parade.

I desire to have this notice given to the chief marshal of the parade that the Lowell agency of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. desires an assignment of place in line. The body will consist of 50 persons.

If there is to be an insurance section in the parade, we would like to be assigned a place in line. We are a body of men who are well known in the city and we are sure that we will be a credit to the parade.

REVISED NEUTRALITY LAWS

General Revision Proposed to Congress in Memorandum Submitted by Attorney General

WASHINGTON, June 3.—General revision of American neutrality laws was proposed to congress today in a memorandum submitted by Attorney General Gregory and concurred in by the state department, as a result of the government's experience with problems arising out of the war and of relations with Mexico.

Enactment of 18 new laws is recommended to correct defects in existing statutes to cover present omission of law "for the observance of obligations imperatively imposed by international law upon the United States" and to make crimes against American neutrality punishable under federal laws.

At present, such acts do not violate federal criminal law. Almost every phase of activity in the United States on behalf of foreign governments which has resulted in federal prosecution under the broad charge of conspiracy would be made specifically criminal by the proposed legislation.

In addition, the powers of the president would be broadened with respect to withholding clearance to suspected vessels, further employment of the land and naval forces to preserve neutrality, imposing a more rigid censorship upon wireless and cable messages to belligerent countries, and seizing arms and ammunition about to be exported in violation of an embargo.

One of the proposed laws would authorize collectors of customs or other persons duly empowered by the president to inspect foreign private vessels in American ports for the purpose of "investigating and detecting any use or attempted use" of the vessels in violation of neutrality laws. The laws of such vessels as a place of resort for conspirators against American neutrality would also be made a crime. Another law would make criminal certain activities here of foreign spies.
